GOING TO PARIS

PRESIDENT KRUGER LEAVES MARSEILLES.

THE FAREWELL WAS CORDIAL

HOPES ENTHUSIASM WILL DO HIS CAUSE GOOD.

WANTS ACTION TO FOLLOW

THE NIGHT TO BE SPENT IN THE CITY OF DIJON.

Marseilles, Nov. 23—Though the enthusiasm attending Mr. Kruger's departure from Marseilles was not so boisterous and there was no such crowd present as awaited him on the quay when he landed yesterday from the Gelderland, he had no reason to complain of any diminution of warmth on the part of the people of Marseilles.

Mr. Kruger was up at an early hour and was ready and waiting when his landau reached the hotel to convey him to the railroad depot. Amidst the cheering of a large assembly the former president of the Transvaal entered his carriage at 9 o'clock and was driven to the station.

He was accompanied by Dr. Leyds and Messrs. Pearson, Wessels, Eloff, Fischer, Van Hammel, Rambaud and Heymen.

Just before the departure of the train Mr. Kruger appeared on the steps of the railroad carriage, in response to the shouts of the crowd, and said:

"Citizens of Marseilles: I thank the population of Marseilles for its warm welcome. I trust I shall find the same enthusiastic sympathy in all the cities which I am going to travel through and I hope it will be followed by actions which will continue to assist us and result in abetting our cause."

As the train left at 9:20 a great cry arose.

Mr. Kruger will spend the night at Dijon, where he will arrive at 5:20 this afternoon.

Extensive police precautions were taken this morning. Detachments of policemen were massed along the route from the hotel to the station, but Mr. Kruger's departure took place without any disagreeable incident.

GREETED AT AVIGNON.

Avignon, Department of Vauclause, Nov. 23.—Avignon, the first stop of Mr. Kruger's train, was reached at 11 a. m. He was greeted by throngs of people, shouts of welcome and a band of music, and was presented with a basket of flowers, to which were attached the French and Boer colors.

The assistant mayor made a speech and Mr. Kruger responded briefly, showing signs of fatigue. He saluted with his hand while the crowd cheered him frantically. Mr. Kruger's train stopped here ten minutes.

GREAT CROWD AT VALENCE.

Valence, Department of Drome, Nov. 23.—The train having Mr. Kruger on board passed here at 1:45 p. m. and was cheered by a crowd of about 5,000 persons.

An enormous crowd was massed within and without the station. The mayor greeted Mr. Kruger in the name of the city, bouquets were presented to the traveler and words of sympathy and admiration for him were expressed.

Mr. Kruger stood before the open door of the railroad carriage and the train departed amidst the shouting of "vivas."

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION.

New York, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Paris to the Journal and Advertiser says:

The French government has decided that as England has not notified the powers of the annexation of the Transvaal, Kruger will be received at the Elysee, if he desires, as a foreign sovereign traveling incognito.

THE GAME TOMORROW.

The football game of the season in Fort Wayne will be played tomorrow afternoon at Centlivre park between the elevens of the Fort Wayne and Huntington high schools. A big delegation will be here to root for the visiting team, and there should be a good crowd of Fort Wayne people out tomorrow. The line-up of the Fort Wayne team will be as follows: Center, Adolph Schulz; right guard, M. Miller; right tackle, Arthur Schulz; right end, McCormick; left guard, Burger; left tackle, Hopkins; left end, A. Olds; quarter back, Barrows; right half back, Evans; left half back, Coppock; full back, Hamilton. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

WILL GO TO GAS FIELD.

President H. C. Paul, of the Fort Wayne Gas company, is arranging to have the members of the city council make a tour of the gas field next week to inspect the improvements that have been made by the Fort Wayne company during the summer. The trip will probably be made on Thursday or Friday.

WHERE THE MONEY IS USED

REPORT OF SALARY DIVISION OF POSTOFFICES.

The Annual Allowances for Clerk Hire and Other Interesting Facts Set Forth.

Washington, Nov. 23.—George W. Beavers, chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department, in his annual report to the first assistant postmaster general, submits some interesting figures on the wide field covered in that office, which handles more appropriations than all the other divisions in the first assistant's office combined.

He shows that the total annual allowances for clerk hire at first, second, third and fourth-class offices on June 4, last, amounted to $12,080,130; for rent, fuel and light, $1,083,185; total allowances in connection with the military postal service, $90,370, and amount involved for rent of leased buildings, $922,992.

The total number of presidential offices at the beginning of the present fiscal year was 4,280. The net increase in salaries of postmasters at all presidential postoffices over the previous year was $492,600. The aggregate of the salaries was $7,423,600. The average salary of all postmasters on July 1 was $1,374. During the year forty-two full postal stations and 325 sub-stations were established. Twenty presidential postoffices were discontinued and made stations or sub-stations of other free delivery postoffices. The unprecedented growth of the service and the added cost of the insular service in Porto Rico and Hawaii necessitated an unusual increase in postal station expenses. Attention is called to the failure of the last congress to heed the very earnest demand of the department for an additional structure, centrally and conveniently located, in New York city for handling certain classes and conditions of mail.

"A poor service at New York," says the report, "means a poor service for the whole country."

The estimates include $2,100,000 for rent, fuel and light for the next fiscal year. The total estimates amount to $36,777,100, an increase of two and a quarter millions over the present year.

MINISTER W[illegible] AT CINCINNATI.

Cincinnati, Nov. 23.—The Chinese minister Wu-Ting-Fang, who addressed the Commercial club here last evening on the foreign trade of China, returned today to Washington. During the morning he spent some time in visiting manufacturing establishments.

WILL MEET TOMORROW.

A meeting of the Allen County Library association will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Among the matters to come up is the selection of books to be purchased for the library.

MAY BE COMPROMISED.

Manager MacDougal, of the Paragon Waist factory, and a committee representing the girls who went out upon a strike this week, held a long conference at the factory office today with a view of adjusting the differences in the scale of prices. It is learned that something in the way of a compromise was offered, and the committee now has the matter under further consideration.

MADE LAST PAYMENT.

The county commissioners this morning made the last payment on the wood furniture of the court house to the A. H. Andrews Co., of Chicago. The amount paid was $3,902.99.

WAR IS NOT OVER

BRITISH GET DISQUIETING NEWS FROM AFRICA.

BOTHA NEAR DEWETSDORP

ORANGE FREE STATE MUST BE RECONQUERED.

DE WET AND BOTHA UNITED

FRENCH HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DISASTER.

London, Nov. 23.—The Star today, commenting on the report that General Botha, with his commando, is close to Dewetsdorp, regards the news as most disquisting and says:

"We have heard many strange and unverifiable stories, but one thing we know is that French was pursued all the way from Middleburg to Standarton and got through the terrible neck of the mountains only by the skin of his teeth."

Proceeding, the Star suggests that General Botha pursued the British, marched south and joined hands with General Dewet, and that thus Bloemfontein is endangered and the Orange Free State will have to be reconquered before the subduing of the Transvaal can be commenced. In connection with the above, a belated telegram today announces that General French arrived at Johannesburg November 17.

STORIES TOLD BY BOERS.

Kroonspruit, Orange River Colony, Thursday, Nov. 22.—General Bruce-Hamilton's column arrived here after scouring the Lindley and Heilbron districts. The troops brought in a number of prisoners. The latter relate the remarkable assurances they received at Thabanachu from General Dewet a fortnight ago. Dewet, they say, urged the burghers to hold out till December 10, when "all the British were going home."

He added that the British had the permission of Russia to fight for a year only; that Queen Victoria was at Cape Town, whither she had fled to escape the Chinese, who had captured half of England; that General Botha had driven the British out of the Transvaal and had taken Pietermaritzburg; that Dewet himself was fighting in Cape Colony, burning farms, and that Lord Roberts, wounded by three bullets, had been taken to Heilbron to die and had been buried there beneath the town hall.

WILL GET ROYAL WELCOME.

London, Nov. 23.—The returning Canadian troops on board the Hawarden Castle, due here next week, will be lavishly entertained by a private committee, of which Lord Grey is chairman. Three hundred seats have been secured at the various London theaters for each night the Canadians are here. They will be quartered at Kensington barracks, whence there will be excursions to Brighton, Woolwich and other points on interest, including a probable visit to the queen.

Lord Grey said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"They will not, exactly, be the guests of the nation, as that is reserved for the 5,000 colonial troops who are coming later. But, we are trying to make the short stay here of these Canadians as enjoyable as possible, as a slight token of our appreciation of the magnificent work they have done. It will be carried out with as little formality as possible."

LOST TO WABASH COMPANY

SUPREME COURT OVERRULES PETITION FOR REHEARING.

The Eel River Railroad Now Passes From Control of Wabash Into Original Hands.

The Sentinel's special correspondent in Indianapolis this afternoon wires that the supreme court has overruled the petition for rehearing in the case of the Eel River railway receivership suit, which has been pending in that court for the past year. The case has passed through two trials in the circuit courts of Cass and Howard counties.

The decision of the supreme court rendered some weeks ago was adverse to the company and the overruling of the petition for a rehearing dispose of the case permanently so far as the Indiana court is concerned.

The decision of the supreme court means that the Wabash company must now build another connecting line between its main line and the Detroit and Buffalo lines. By the law, as interpreted by the supreme court, the company cannot buy or lease the Eel River road, because that would be destroying competition, and the only way out of the predicament in which the Wabash will soon find itself is to build another road. The Fort Wayne and Butler road will connect the two Wabash lines, and its construction is now, it seems, almost assured.

SERVICES AT THE RINK.

Commencing next Sunday evening, the evangelistic services which are being conducted by Rev. W. E. Geil will be held in Princess rink. The services will be held in the rink during the week and will be brought to a close on Sunday evening, December 2.

WILL IGNORE THE PORTE

A CONSULATE TO BE ESTABLISHED AT HARPOOL.

Action of the Turkish Government is Construed as a Violation of Treaty Rights.

Constantinople, Nov. 23.—The porte has definitely rejected the request for an exequateur for a United States consul at Harpool. This refusal is regarded by the United States legation as a direct violation of treaty rights, and, consequently, despite the refusal, Dr. Thomas H. Norton, who was appointed by President McKinley some time ago to establish a consulate at Harpool, has been directed to proceed to his post.

The expected visit of the battleship Kentucky to Smyrna is believed to relate quite as much to this matter as to the indemnity question.

NO NOTIFICATION AS YET.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The refusal of the Turkish government to grant an exequateur to the American consul at Harpool has not yet been notified to the state department.

It was scarcely expected that such notice would be made, as the Turkish way generally is procrastination rather than direct refusal, which serves the same end, without giving tangible ground for reprisals.

Dr. Norton, who was appointed consul at Harpool, has now been in Constantinople awaiting his exequateur about three months. The claim of the United States in this case was based upon article 2, of the treaty of May 7, 1830, which reads:

"And the United States may appoint their citizens to be consuls, and vice consuls at the commercial places in the dominions of the sublime porte where it shall be found needful to superintend the affairs of commerce."

The Turkish objection to the establishment of a consulate at Harpool and Erzeroum under this apparently clear permission has been based on the rather novel reason that there was no commerce at these two points, and it has been difficult for our officials to establish the contrary proposition.

But some time ago the Turkish government accorded to the British government the right to establish a consulate at Harpool, and the state department immediately based an additional claim of the "favored nation" clause of its general treaty, which would appear to warrant it in demanding the same privilege of establishing a consulate at a given point in Turkey as was granted to Great Britain.

BIG FIRM IS BANKRUPT.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 23.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by Barnes & LaDow, of Mechanicville, N. Y. The liabilities aggregate $32,996, of which $12,079 are unsecured. The assets are placed at $41,980, of which $21,800 is in real estate. The firm was engaged in the business of manufacturing doors and blinds.

WANT TO REORGANIZE.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The comptroller of the currency has been informed by National Bank Examiner Tucker, temporary receiver of the German National bank of Newport, Ky., that an effort is being made by the directors and stockholders of the bank to restore the bank to solvency.

Mrs. Henry C. Paul will entertain the Laetitia club this evening at her home, on West Wayne street.

POWERS PRODDED

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES A NEW CHINESE NOTE.

URGES PROMPT SETTLEMENT

IMPATIENT OF THE DELAY IN PEKIN ARRANGEMENT.

A CONFERENCE IN BERLIN

UNITED STATES AND GERMANY DRAW CLOSER.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The secetary of state has addressed an identical note to the powers interested in the Chinese situation, setting out tersely and afresh the object of the United States government as to China, and pointing out how such objects as are common to the powers can best be secured. The note marks the initiation of fresh negotiations on our part on the arrangement of new bases to tide over the impossible situation created at the last meeting of the ministers in Pekin.

Some responses already are at hand and it is stated that generally our advances have been well received and the state department expresses satisfaction at the results thus far received. It is believed that this is due to the extreme course suggested by some of the powers as to the treatment of China, and especially in the matter of punishments and indemnities to which the ministers at Pekin seem inclined. The intent is to push the negotiations on a more rational and business-like basis.

A CONFERENCE IN BERLIN.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—United States Ambassador White had an important interview yesterday with Baron Von Richtofen, the secretary for foreign affairs, at the foreign office. It is understood the interview took place as the result of instructions cabled from Washington, and that a somewhat lengthy discussion between the ambassador and secretary had reference entirely to the ideas of the United States government regarding the prosecution of the war in China and the co-operation of the United States with Germany and other European powers regarding conditions for peace; especially the penalties to be exacted and the indemnity to be secured. It is also understood that the most satisfactory and most friendly result was reached and that it is calculated to put at rest the disquieting rumors recently circulated regarding exhibitions of ill-feeling toward Germany in the American press, which, it is pretended here, were inspired from Washington.

SURRENDERED TO YORK.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee cables that Colonel York's column reached Hsuenghiva November 17. The weak garrison immediately surrendered.

The column commanded by Colonel Muclenfels, the dispatch adds, is proceeding to Aucklachwan. The health of the troops is good.

A NEW PROGRAM NECESSARY.

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to Reuter's news agency from Pekin, dated November 22, says:

"Competent independent judges of the present critical stage of the negotiations opine that the consideration of all the peace preliminaries should be transferred to Washington or to an European capital and be placed in the hands of plenipotentiaries possessed of full powers to arrange the terms to be imposed on China.

"Once the terms are agreed on they should be presented as a demand not requiring negotiations with the Chinese commissioners.

"It is felt that the present discussions of the ministers, who do not possess the powers to decide on the multiplicity of propositions without reference to their governments, are bound to interminably drag out the preliminaries and result in long delay, causing the greatest uneasiness in the foreign communities, who anticipate vastly increased difficulty in reaching a settlement, owing to the alleged waste of time."

FIXED A SPECIAL MEETING.

Not a quorum of the Commercial club directors were present at the meeting last evening and little was done aside from some general discussions. It was decided to hold a special meeting one week from next Tuesday evening, at which time the architect's plans for a union station will be considered. The club is arranging for an excursion into the city on December 18.

DINNER FOR THE POOR.

The City mission, at 170 West Main street, will give a Thanksgiving dinner from 11 to 1 o'clock on Thanksgiving day and services will follow the meal immediately. All the poor of the city are invited, as well as those who may feel led to aid in the work by bringing well-filled baskets of provisions.

HAND BADLY CRUSHED.

Louis Vollmer had his left hand badly crushed last evening at the Clausmeier implement store on Columbia street. It was caught in some machinery. Dr. E. A. Crull dressed the injury.

HIGGINS IS FOUND GUILTY

INDIANAPOLIS COUNCILMAN IS CONVICTED OF BRIBERY.

After a Long Deliberation the Jury Renders a Verdict—Penalty May be Heavy.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 23.—John M. Higgins, councilman from the Fifteenth ward, charged with soliciting a bribe from D. M. Parry, of the Parry Manufacturing company, was convicted last evening on the second count, which alleged that he solicited a bribe, without stating the amount desired. "Not guilty" was returned on the other three counts. The verdict came as a surprise, as it was generally expected that a disagreement would result or else an acquittal. The counsel for the accused at once submitted a motion for a new trial, pending which Mr. Higgins was transferred to the charge of the sheriff without bail.

The case will probably go to the supreme court. Meanwhile the preliminary steps have already been taken in the city council, on the charge as incorporated in the indictment, with a view of ousting Higgins as a member of that body. The whole trouble springs from a private switch which the complaining company was desirous of laying across several streets, and which was finally approved by the city council. Suspicion was first directed to Higgins because of rumors that he was offering to protect gamblers from police raids, and this led to a general investigation. The minimum penalty under the statute is two years' imprisonment and $500 fine. The jury was out twenty-four hours.

IN THE BANKRUPTCY COURT

DUKE OF MANCHESTER MAKES APPEARANCE.

Examination of His Case is Postponed Until His Return From the United States.

London, Nov. 23.—The duke of Manchester, who sails for the United States tomorrow, appeared before the registrar in bankruptcy today. The receiver told the court that the case must be adjourned, as the accounts were not yet filed, although fully prepared.

The liabilities disclosed, he added, amounted to £37,700; assets, £7,545. The receiver asked for time to examine he accounts and interrogate the debtor.

Counsel for the trustee said that the committee of inspection had agreed to an adjournment. The duke of Manchester, he asserted, was prepared to enter the bond, if desired, but, counsel explained, his client was going abroad and anticipated returning to England February 2, 1901.

The examination was adjourned to that date.

HAWAIIAN POSTAL SERVICE.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The third assistant postmaster general has issued an order directing that as Hawaii is now a territory of the United States, with the domestic registration system in full operation there, all postmasters making up registered mails must address them not only with the postoffice name, but with that of the island on which the office is located, and add the name of Hawaii.

Lillie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Haedakker, of 18 Thomas street, has been quite ill.

AGUINALDO DEAD

THE REPORT IS CREDITED BY MANILA NEWSPAPERS.

GENERAL TRIAS IN COMMAND

AGUINALDO WOUNDED IN FIGHT IN NORTHERN LUZON.

REPORTS SEEM RELIABLE

CONSUL WILDMAN SAYS REBEL LEADER IS LIVING.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The latest mail from Manila received at the war department brings an interesting budget of news from the islands, some of which heretofore has been touched on in press dispatches.

The Manila papers of October 18 devote considerable space to a renewal of the report concerning Aguinaldo's death in northern Luzon. They say that the circumstantial character of this report, together with the fact that General Trias recently has been signing himself "commander-in-chief of the insurgent forces," lends strong color to the belief that Aguinaldo may be dead.

The latest account in this line comes from Nueva Ecija, in northern Luzon, where, in an outpost skirmish, Aguinaldo's horse was killed and his saddle bags, with a number of personal papers were captured.

It seems that a non-commissioned officer at this place had gained the confidence of a native woman, Maria Ramierez, wife of a general on Aguinaldo's staff, and had secured considerable information as to the movements of the insurgents, much of which had proven to be correct. The woman told him that in the fight at Nueva Ecija, Aguinaldo was shot from his horse and severely wounded.

He was carried by his followers into the jungle and subsequently was reported to be ill with fever. His body afterwards was carried down the river on a raft, slung in a hammock and completely covered with palm leaves, but the natives who saw the passage of the raft were uncertain whether he was dead or alive.

This, together with the claims of Trias and others of the insurgent generals to the chief command of the army, lead the local Manila papers to give considerable credence to the story.

AGUINALDO BADLY WOUNDED.

New York, Nov. 23—United States Consul Wildman, says a World dispatch from Hong Kong, has information that recent correspondence between the junta and the insurrectionists is to the effect that Aguinaldo is still alive, but he is said to be suffering from a gun shot wound in his stomach.

REBEL LEADERS ARRESTED.

Manila, Nov. 23.—Dorotion Karragdag, an insurgent lieutenant colonel, and Manuelo Lazares, who, it is said, was General Torres' quartermaster, have been arrested in Bulacan province. Karragdag had previously been arrested and parolled.

SURRENDER A MURDERER.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The state department today issued a warrant for the surrender to the German authorities of Johnan Bauer, now under arrest at New York, charged with the murder of his father at Munchmenster, Bavaria. The allegations in the case show that the father, a dissipated old locksmith, having signified a purpose to marry again, thus cutting off the children's inheritance, the son, advising with his sister, decided to make away with his father. One day he went in the field and digging a hole, came back and informed his sister that he had prepared a grave for the old man. When the father returned, his son beat him to death with a shovel, put his body in a sack, loaded it into a wagon and carried it out and buried it in the place he had prepared. Then Bauer fled to America, where he was arrested on the confession of his sister.

In the botanical garden of Berlin is to be seen a cactus which has grown for seven years in a glass flask sealed by fusion. These, in dying, furnish the carbonic acid necessary for the life of the cactus.

WAR ON THE EAST

BRYAN MEN WILL OPPOSE THE REORGANIZATION

OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

BY THE ELEMENT THAT HAS FOUGHT HIM.

A BANQUET TO BE OCCASION

CHAIRMAN JONES HAS BRYAN OUT OF THE RUNNING.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 23.—At a public banquet to be given by the Jacksonian club in this city on December 26 Mr. Bryan will make his first speech since the close of the campaign, and this utterance will be in support of a movement to defeat the old-line democrats of the east in their proposed attempt to reorganize the democratic party along lines different from those advocated by Mr. Bryan.

The banquet is to be the most stupendous affair of the kind ever given in the west. All the prominent Bryan democrats of the country will be invited, among them Charles A. Towne, of Minnesota; Daniel Campau, of Michigan; Taggart, of Indiana; Blackburn, of Kentucky; Stone and Webster Davis, of Missouri; Cato Sells, of Iowa; John G. Johnson and David Overmeyer, of Kansas; Altgeld and Alschuler, of Illinois, and Patterson, of Colorado.

WHAT JONES SAYS.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 23.—Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the democratic national committee, spent yesterday in Little Rock and left last night for Washington, D. C. He said before departure:

"The election result was a great surprise to all democrats. All were so confident of success that the sweeping republican victory came as a severe shock. Even on the evening of the day before election reassuring telegrams came from leaders that New York was safe for Bryan, and from leaders in other pivotal states that the democrats were sure to win. It was these forecasts which buoyed us up to the last moment and made the actual result more startling.

"But Mr. Bryan is a great man, one of the greatest in America today, and his influence will be felt for many years to come in American politics. He is a giant in intellect and simply indefatigable in the prosecution of a campaign. Whether he will be a candidate in the near future remains to be seen, but it is not probable that he will. It is more reasonable to presume that he would decline the nomination, even should it be offered to him.

"Reorganization? Oh, that's all nonsense. There's nothing in it, and it will blow over in thirty days. It is precipitated by those who deserted the party and gave aid and comfort to the enemy, and does not represent the strength or the spirit of the genuine democracy. What they would do is to adopt all the policies of the republican party and be democrats only in name.

"But, granting that there is cause or strength for so-called reorganization, who has the power within the party to do it now? Not the disgruntled disorganizers who have raised the issue. If there is to be a reorganization of national committee or platform it cannot be done for four years, or until the next national convention.

"As to the issues, that must depend largely upon the national and international developments of the next four years. It may be laid down primarily, however, that the democratic party will never vary from its established fundamentals—a strict construction of the constitution and an unswerving adherence to its principles and an economically administered government for the benefit of the governed.

"The silver question may solve itself. Should the amount of gold produced be ample to maintain a sufficient volume of metallic money and insure the stability of prices the silver question will be subordinated, but should the supply fall short of the demands of trade the silver question will be made prominent.

"The question of imperialism may also find a solution outside the ballot box. I believe the supreme court will decide against the Porto Rican law, and, should this be done, there will be a revulsion on the part of the republicans themselves against the retention of the Philippines. But just what the issue of 1904 will be no one can predict with any degree of certainty."

CALIFORNIA CITY FLOODED.

Anahiem, Cal., Nov. 23.—This city is threatened with inundation by the rise of the Santa Anna river. Over 100 families already have been driven from their homes near the river and it is feared that there has been loss of life in the lowlands below here. Anahiem is fifteen feet lower than the river and when the water got over the banks there was no way of checking its spread. During the night the Catholic cemetery was flooded to the depth of one foot, while the peat lands, where a large crop of celery is growing, has also been flooded. Along the Los Alamitos branch of the Southern Pacific railway more than a mile of track has been washed out. Santa Fe trains from Santa Anna are stalled here by the flooding of 3,000 feet of track beyond Fullerton.

GERMAN OFFICIAL FLEES.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Criminal Commissioner Von Treseckow Theil, who, it was announced in court yesterday, had absconded, has been arrested. Theil has been prominently connected with the case of Sternberg, the Berlin banker who has been on trial for some time past accused of an offense against morality.

THE FIGHTING IS DESPERATE

PROGRESS OF THE COLUMBIAN REVOLUTION.

Government Sustains Heavy Losses in an Attack on a Strong Rebel Position.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 23.—The British steamer Barbadian, which has just arrived here from Colon, reports that severe fighting occurred Monday and Tuesday at Culebra.

The government forces attacked the rebels, who occupied a good position, with the result that the losses of the former were heavy.

The fighting was proceeding when the steamer left Tuesday night.

The stores and restaurants at Colon were closed and the rebels held a portion of the railroad line.

Another rebel force was reported to be engaging the government troops near Panama.

Business is entirely suspended at the latter place and both Panama and Colon are in a state of terror.

The rebels are attacking in a determined manner and it is feared the slaughter will be great before decisive results are reached.

The liberals, it is asserted by the passengers of the Barbadian, hold Buenaventura, though the Colombian government is making a great effort to regain possession of it, but thus far unsuccessfully.

BAR CIGARETTES IN IOWA.

Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 23.—The sale of cigarettes in Iowa has been discontinued as the result of a decision in the supreme court of Tennessee. Iowa dealers who sell them now do so at the peril of prosecution. Two agents of the American Tobacco company visited Sioux City to serve notice upon the dealers here that the company would no longer be responsible for the sale of cigarettes since the Tennessee decision. Iowa and Tennessee have similar cigarette laws, which require the payment of a mulct tax of $300 annually for permission to sell them, the view taken by the legislature being that they were injurious to the public health. The American Tobacco company commenced test cases in both states. The district court at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, decided that under the interstate commerce law they could not be excluded from the market so long as they were sold in original packages. Since then they have been sold in Iowa pending a decision of the supreme court.

The "axle light" system is to be applied on the trains of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad on an extensive scale. Each car will have its own storage batteries supplied with electricity generated by the axles of the wheels and the locomotive headlights will derive their illumination from the same source. It is calculated that each full train, exclusive of the locomotive, will develop nearly 5,000 candle power light.

An ingenious automobilist of Willoughby, Ohio, who operates an electric vehicle, has rigged up a connection between his stable and his barn by means of which he can, immediately the power is turned off at the trolley station for the night (his lighting current comes from the railway wires), switch his automobile storage battery into use, thus furnishing a current for lighting purposes for the remainder of the night.

Now comes the London Lancet and places tobacco as next to regular food in its benefits to the system. It is asserted that tobacco is a healthy and desirable stimulant for soldiers and those engaged in hard manual labor.

THE ARMY OF HEALTH.

The Army in the Philippines Insignificant Compared With This One.

If all the people in the United States, Canada and Great Britain who make daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets could be assembled together it would make an army that would outnumber our army of one hundred thousand by at least five to one.

Men and women, who are broken down in health, are only a part of the thousands who use this popular preparation, the greater number are people who are in fair health but who know that the way to keep well is to keep the digestion perfect and use Stuart's Tablets as regularly as meal time comes to insure good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

Prevention is always better than cure and disease can find no foothold if the digestion is kept in good working order by the daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Calif., says: "Have used and recommended Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Miss Lelia Dively, 4627 Plummer St., Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50 cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

From Mrs. Del Eldred, Sun Prairie Wis., "I was taken dizzy very suddenly during the hot weather of the past summer. After ten days of constant dizziness I went to our local physician, who said my liver was torpid and I had over heated my blood; he doctored me for two weeks without much improvement; I finally thought of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I had used long before for various bad feelings) and the first three tablets helped me.

"They are easily the best all around family medicine I ever used."

The army of people who take Stuart's Tablets are mostly people in fairly good health, and who keep well by taking them regularly after meals. They contain no opiates, cocaine or any cathartic or injurious drugs, simply the natural peptones and digestives which every weak stomach lacks.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere in United States, Canada and Great Britain.

Advices from the Philippines create the suspicion that some one must have been spreading false reports about the election.

Perry Belmont intimates broadly that any set of men who would use his name in giving authority to Richard Croker are not fit to associate with.

The Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain naturally considers those persons who exhibit undue interest in the business relations of his family with government contracts to be highly disloyal.

Military authorities may think very highly of the automobile; but for a motive power that will get the wagons up over all kinds of roads and in all kinds of weather the old-fashioned army mule has a long-standing reputation.

Just at present the gold is coming from the Arctic region. Receipts at Seattle assay office since July 1 amount to over $19,000,000. All of the fiscal year ending June 30 brought over $13,000,000; the year before $6,000,000. The rate of increase is what tells.

Without accepting literally the frequently made assertion that the president does not want a southern problem to disturb his second term under any circumstances, there seems no reason to doubt that at present the administration favors a waiting policy. Southern politicians, who are constantly dinning into the ears of northerners the assurance that with the race problem eliminated there will appear a strong white republican party in the south, doubtless exercises a very considerable influence in delaying action. Rhetoric, rather than facts or figures, is their chief instrumentality, for they are clever men who realize that data is against their contention. There is nothing in the election returns to indicate that the dominant white element in South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi are any more inclined toward the republican party than it was before the "grandfather clause" was thought of.

A report from Madrid asserts that the Hispano-American congress, by which Spain undertook to establish closer relations of friendship and commerce with the Spanish-American republics, was not a success. The interest of the Spanish people in the matter is stated to have been perfunctory; the delegates from South and Central America few, and the discourses for the main part consisted of generalities. It is a natural result that a nation which has so little leadership in the methods of commercial expansion should find it uphill work to make the racial kinship compensate for commercial shortcomings. Nevertheless, the congress represents an advance in the form of giving a distinct recognition that the only future relation of Spain to the countries which she once ruled can be the ties of race and mutual trade. The United States has as close a relation as Spain's to the Spanish-American republics, though of different nature. It consists of geographical proximity, the unity of political interest, and the community of republican government. It should not neglect the South American field, though the tendency now seems to be in the direction of doing so.

THE FRENCH DEMONSTRATION.

There is little doubt that the effusive welcome of President Kruger on his arrival at Marseilles was largely inspired by the French enmity to England. Of course, the indomitable resistance to the English conquest which he has displayed even in defeat has been a great influence in stimulating the manifestation of the sentiment But if there had not been throughout France a powerful and bitter enmity to England it is doubtful if Kruger's arrival would have evoked a quarter of this display of popular sentiment.

There is nothing new in the existence of this feeling, for it is long standing, but the salient fact in this manifestation of it is that it has not before been displayed quite so obtrusively. The reception to Marchand had the pretext of being a welcome to a French officer after a long service in African exploration. Honors to European potentates supposed to support France against England were covered by the welcome due to all royal visitors. But the popular honors to Kruger are avowedly paid to him in his character of enemy and victim of English aggression. It is impossible to view it in any other light than as an undisguised demonstration of the popular feeling against England. Yet it is difficult to see what can come of it. It is not to be supposed that the government of France will by any official action support the cause of the Transvaal. Nor can England take any formal notice of a display of antagonistic French feeling. For the occasion of the display England has herself to thank. For the existence of the feeling some characteristic English traits are largely responsible, at least to the extent of intensifying the traditional French sentiment.

DEATH ENDS THE OPPORTUNITY FOR PRAYER.

EVANGELIST GEIL'S SERMON

ACCEPT CHRIST BECAUSE YOU EXPECT TO LIVE.

GREAT AUDIENCE PRESENT

THE EVANGELIST REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS.

Before beginning his sermon at the Baptist Tabernacle last evening Evangelist Geil took occasion to reply at some length to criticisms which have appeared in the Journal-Gazette. He commended the newspaper reports which have been given of his sermons, and stated that he did not want his hearers to feel under obligations to go about "backing up" the evangelist. He advised them to direct their efforts toward saving souls. He commended the editorial criticism of the Journal-Gazette as being open and manly, though he of course did not agree with it. Complaint was made that the newspaper had used the terms "Christians" and "church-going folk" interchangeably, and the evangelist said: "I have never knowingly attacked any member of the church who has been living a godly life. I have assailed drunkards, or, rather, the drunkard-makers; I have assailed policemen in this city who drink with women in saloons at late hours; I have assailed the scribes and the pharisees, and rottenness social, moral and political, and if my editorial friend desires to pin his faith to them, I admire his courage and frankness. Concerning credentials, I have two—the Old Testament and the New. I can not furnish better ones."

The writer who signed a nom de plume to his communication was handled rather more severely for failing to make his identity clearly known and for seeking to hide behind a great religious denomination. He condemned spotted cards as the gamblers' game the world over and inveighed against their introduction into any home. Continuing he said: "I propose to tell the truth. I have never been bought, I never will be bought, and I tell you the influence of this rich man shall not affect me more than would the word of the humblest of earth." Rev. Geil conveyed the idea that the writer's identity was fully established in his own mind, and he closed by inviting him to dine with him today at the New Aveline; that if he could do him any good service he would be glad of the opportunity.

WHERE IS THE DEVIL?

This was the inquiry with which the evangelist began the evening discourse. Continuing, he said: "Paul and Silas were in jail when the angel came to them, broke down the locks, kicked off the stocks and loosed Paul and Silas. They were in the midst of a revival meeting. The jailer jumped in. What sort of man is the jailer? A bad man? An arch-criminal in charge of prisoners? No; that sort of man is never placed over such an institution. He is a law-abiding, law-respecting, honorable, upright man. Do you think the arch-criminal is placed in charge of hell? I tell you Milton is mistaken. The devil has never been in hell; he is not there now. Then where is he?

"In Rev. 19:20 we are told of the first beings cast alive into hell—the beast and the false prophet were cast alive into the lake of brimstone. A little farther along, in Rev. 20:10 (and this is looking off into the future) is recorded the first time the devil was to be cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. So the punishment of the devil, at least as to length, is to be the same as the punishment of those (Matt. 25:41) who reject Christ—forever and forever. And who are the lost souls? Those who have died without repentance. Selfish men? Yes. Over in the gospel of Luke God for a time throws up the blinds and gives us a glimpse of hell. Two rich men died; this is the foundation of the parable. One went to paradise and the other to hell. Riches alone did not condemn him, for the other, equally rich, gained eternal life.

MAN AT PRAYERS.

"Our only real look into hell shows us a strange sight—a man at prayers. Why, my friends, when the redeemed pass over, there'll be no praying; no preaching; no prayers, for then all things are ours. There'll be nothing to ask for. There'll be no taking up collections then. I said that in a sermon once before and one fellow down in the audience cried: 'Praise the Lord.' I replied: 'O, you stingy little rascal, you won't be there!'

"My friends, by a decree that is irrevocable, you will pray somewhere, either in this world or in the world to come. Those who do not pray in this world will have it all to do in the next. The man in hell is the man at prayers. God help you to get all your praying done here, so you'll have none left over. After death the only place you can pray is in hell.

"I want you to picture upon one side of me tonight a cradle and on the other a casket. I kneel down, clasping with one hand the cradle and with the other the casket. I'm going to pray—first, toward the cradle and then toward the casket. Kneeling in the narrow span of a human life I turn toward the cradle and pray, 'Forgive all my sins from the cradle to the casket;' toward the casket, 'Give me a pure life until casket time.' O, I want you to get down between the cradle and the casket tonight and pray both ways.

THE TIME TO PRAY.

"Man, woman, boy, girl, get your praying done between the cradle and the casket. Beyond the latter the only place you can pray is in hell. That man in hell cries for the salvation of his five brethren. He's on the wrong side of the casket to ask for salvation. The place for prayer is on this side, where we can reach out and help to answer the prayer. Pray now.

"There are eight classes of people who are going to be hurled into the lake of fire. I'm not dealing with that lake now as though it were but a figure; but if it were only a figure, how much more dreadful must be the realization. Rev. 21:8—ther's my text: 'But the fearful'—that's one crowd. Afraid of what, man will say. Not standing up for Christ; permitting men to frown and sneer upon the Savior."

The evangelist told the story of a judge who ridiculed the idea of holding service in a hotel ball room, when it was the only available place that could be used, but who was finally converted in that very place. "You draw a line; you say 'I'll never be saved there.' You'll be saved just there or not at all. You'll be saved in the Lord's way or not at all—'the fearful, the unbelieving, and the abominable, and the murderers,' etc. I wish I had more time, my friends, to take up each of these eight pitiable classes of people.

"My friend, are you saved or lost tonight? Are you in the track of prayer? In the broad road or on the narrow way? I want to put this matter to you so it will grip you. One of the old-time sledge-hammer preachers once swung his long arm with a vehement gesture straight toward a little boy upon the front seat and said: 'Anybody who doesn't pray will never go to heaven.' The little fellow was startled and at the close of the service he scurried home and going to his father said: 'Papa, do you pray?' 'Who put you up to that, boy; your mamma or your aunt?' 'Neither, papa, but the preacher said all who did not pray could not go to heaven. Papa, which way are you going?'

"I want to ask that same question solemnly tonight. You may be dead tomorrow, though I do not expect it. We are hearty and strong, and I ask you to accept Christ as your Savior because you expect to live."

ACTORS WITH SMALLPOX.

Pittsburg, Nov. 23.—Harry Winfred and George W. Pickett, members of the Williams & Walker Theatrical company, at present playing in this city, were taken to the Municipal hospital last night suffering from smallpox. When the health officials discovered the contagion in the company, they at once went to the theater and vaccinated the entire troupe of forty actors. The company came here from Rochester, N. Y., last Sunday, and it is not known where the disease was contracted. On account of the prompt precautions taken, no apprehensions of the spreading of the infection is felt by the authorities.

INDIANS ARE STARVING.

TALKED TO BOARD OF WORKS

OIL BELT TRACTION COMPANY IS HEARD.

Will Apply Monday for Permission to Enter City—Other Notes of the Meeting.

Messrs. George Townsend, William H. Reid and John P. Dales, of Chicago, Attorney N. D. Doughman and C. C. Miller, of this city, were in conference with the board of public works at the regular meeting last evening. The gentlemen gave notice that the Oil Belt Traction company would soon make application for a franchise permitting that interurban electric railway to enter the city of Fort Wayne, and submitted maps and plans showing the route desired, explained the equipment to be used upon the road and stated that they desired to begin work at once.

The Oil Belt company has already secured the right-of-way over a large part of the line, and they desire to enter Fort Wayne over the Taylor street bridge on Hale avenue to the limits at Lavinia avenue. The route to be asked for is as follows: On Lavinia avenue north to Taylor street; thence east to Fairfield avenue; north to Brackenridge street; west to Fulton street; north to Pearl street; east to Harrison street; north to Columbia street, and east on Columbia to Calhoun. This is the same route granted to the Indiana and Ohio Traction company some months ago. The latter company's franchise provided, however, that any company asking for the same right-of-way before the then grantees had begun work, would be given it, and allowed to build the road, and the original grantee would be allowed to use it upon agreeing to stipulated terms as to cost of maintenance, etc. Under this clause the board is at liberty to give the oil belt people a franchise over the same route, with first consideration, so long as the Indiana and Ohio company has not started to build.

The gentlemen stated that they were backed by ample capital, and desired to begin the work of construction at once, without waiting for the floating of bonds. The say the iron will be distributed and grading begun as soon as weather permits, and the line to Huntington will be in operation within a year. The road is to be heavily ballasted, 70-pound rails are to be used, and the cars will be of the large passenger type, weighing 35,000 pounds each.

The board invited the company to file a formal application for a franchise at the meeting of the board Monday afternoon. The board is disposed to regard the requests of the company favorably, and there is likely to be very little delay in granting the franchise.

NOTES OF THE SESSION.

The franchise of the American District Telegraph company was signed by the board and sent to the council for approval.

The final hearing on the Third street pavement matter was postponed until November 30.

A petition was received for an electric lamp at the corner of Creighton and Hoagland avenues.

The board will hold no meeting on next Thursday on account of it being a legal holiday.

New York, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from St. Petersburg says the betrothal of Prince Louis Napoleon Bonaparte to Grand Duchess Helen, daughter of the Grand Duke Vladimir, is officially announced.

Boys' Reefers...

To please both mother and the boy. Boys' tastes do not always harmonize with their mothers'. It has been our constant study to bring both together, and we think we have solved the difficulty by showing a garment a little longer than the usual Reefer, a little more stylish, with a storm collar, such as has always been put on Ulsters—thus giving the boy ample protection around the neck and ears. We have them in Chinchillas—blue, brown and Oxfords—also in Friezes, at prices ranging from

$1-50 to $6.00

There is no garment a boy can wear to as good advantage as a Reefer. It takes the place of an Overcoat and does not interfere with his playing—as it is not cumbersome like an ulster.

Come Here for Reefers.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. P. H. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., writes, "Having been a terrible sufferer from Catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is, 'What cured you?' In answer I feel it my duty to state that Swift's Specific is the medicine. I am such a true believer in the efficacy of Swift's Specific that I can honestly and conscientiously recommend it to any one suffering from Catarrh. Have recommended it to many, and am happy to say that those whom I have induced to use it can bear me out in the statement that it will cure any case of Catarrh if taken according to directions."

S.S.S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines and tonics.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians about your case.

CELERY KING
NATURE'S CURE

It Makes Restful Sleep.

Sleeplessness almost invariably accompanies constipation and its manifold attendant evils —nervous disorders, indigestion, headache, loss of appetite, etc. To attempt to induce sleep by opiates is a serious mistake, for the brain is only benumbed and the body suffers. Celery King removes the cause of wakefulness by its soothing effect on the nerves and on the stomach and bowels.

Celery King cures Constipation and Nerve, Stomach, Liver and Kidney diseases. 5

THE AIM WAS BAD

ASSASSINS TRY TO KILL DR. PETER DRAYER.

A HARTFORD CITY MYSTERY

FIRED ON AT NIGHT WHILE RETURNING HOME.

HAPPENINGS IN HOOSIERDOM

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 23.—About 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night an attempt was made on the life of Dr. Peter Drayer, one of the oldest practicing physicians of this city. His residence is only half a block from the court house, and he was passing an alley near it when two men, who concealed themselves until within twenty feet of him, fired two shots at him. Neither took effect. The men ran out of the alley and down the main street, but he failed to recognize them. He is unable to account for the attempted murder.

[Dr. Peter Drayer, of Hartford City, is the father of Dr. L. P. Drayer, city chemist of Fort Wayne. He is one of the best known physicians in North Central Indiana.]

JURY REFUSED TO CONVICT.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 23.—The trial of James Dennis, the negro porter who was charged with attempting to murder Walter Davis, an employe of the city, last week, was concluded yesterday in the circuit court, the jury rendering a verdict of acquittal. Dennis, it was alleged by Davis and his wife, entered the bedroom and tried to chloroform Davis. The latter jumped out of bed and grappled with Dennis, locked him in a room and summoned the officers.

POSTMASTERS WARY.

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 23.—It is rumored here that Congressman Steele will insist on the removal of all four-year postmasters in this (the Eleventh) district and that the places be given to new men. This will spread consternation among the army of postmasters who felt themselves safe with McKinley's re-election. The postmasters who are to be cut off with one term are reminding Steele of his eighth term in office as congressman and think it in bad form for him to go after them with his ax at the close of a single term. Two candidates are announced for the Kokomo office, now held by Taylor Whiteker, an old soldier. The candidates are J. A. Kautz, of the Kokomo Tribune, and E. A. Simmons, chairman of the republican county committee, neither of whom was a soldier, either in the civil or Spanish war.

THREE HOURS OF AGONY.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 23.—Elmer Coffel, 26 years old, of Mier, Grant county, was caught under a falling tree on the Pence farm north of Mier yesterday afternoon. His thigh was severely crushed and he received other severe injuries. The victim's recovery is doubtful. Coffel was cutting down the tree when it fell unexpectedly, pinning the axman to the ground. Help was slow coming and the injured man spent three hours under the tree before he was relieved.

RECEIVED A CHARGE OF SHOT.

Union City, Ind., Nov. 23.—J. Skillman, manager of the Standard Oil company at this point, yesterday received a full charge of bird shot in his thigh, side and shoulder, and that the wound did not prove fatal was due to the extra heavy hunting coat he wore. The hunting party consisted of Charles Proctor, a druggist of this city; Mr. Keenan, superintendent of the Standard Oil company at Dayton, O., and Mr. Skillman. The shot that struck Mr. Skillman was fired by Mr. Keenan while all were shooting at quail. Mr. Skillman will recover, although seventy-five shot were picked out of his body.

CLOSING DOWN TO INVOICE.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 23.—Gaar, Scott & Co., thrashing machine manufacturers of this city, have closed one of the most prosperous years in their history. On Saturday evening the plant will shut down in all departments for one week for the purpose of invoicing. Both Gaar, Scott & Co. and Robinson & Co. deny having any knowledge regarding the story that the thrashing machine trust will soon be a reality. Both concerns were to have been merged in the great combine last winter, had the project on foot carried through, but the plants. Officials of these companies now say, however, that if there is any movement to revive the trust, they have no information of it other than that which was published a few days ago.

DELIA, THE PROPHET.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 23.—Mrs. George Overby, the colored woman, of Baptisttown, a settlement in the northern part of this city, continues to keep her race greatly stirred because of her prophecies. Last week she predicted that the city of St. Louis would be destroyed by water, because of the wickedness of the people. The colored people of Baptisttown are still fasting and praying and they expect Judgment Day to come at any time. Mrs. Overby is going to St. Louis, and then she will continue her journeyings to Canada, to spread the gospel. She contends that the Lord has called her, and that hereafter she will be known as Delia, the prophet. She is 40 years old, and can not read or write, although she knows the Bible almost by heart.

BURGLARS EXECUTE A RAID.

Rochester, Ind., Nov. 23.—Wednesday night burglars made a foray on this city, robbing a number of places. They entered Ross' foundry, the Lake Erie and Western railway depot, the tool house belonging to the section men of that road, Duncan & Gaffyn's elevator, the Indianapolis Brewing company's local office, Myers' planing mill and the Erie grain elevator. Several safes were forced, and a number of money drawers were rifled. They realized but little by their work.

DISSOLUTION ORDERED.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 23.—There was a called meeting of the Fort Wayne Presbytery in this city yesterday afternoon, to act on the resignation of Rev. F. H. Gwynne, D. D., in charge of the First Presbyterian church at Elkhart, whose congregation had refused to permit his retirement. Dr. Gwynne desires to return to Dillon, Mon., where he formerly resided. The dissolution was made as requested.

FOOT BALL PLAYER DEAD.

New York, Nov. 23.—An overdose of morphine taken to relieve suffering caused by an over indulgence in liquor ended the life of Dr. Robert Acton, a physician and well known foot ball player on the Harvard team in 1893. He died in the Presbyterian hospital.

Robert Acton was born in Ireland and came to this country nine years ago. He entered Harvard college and graduated from there about one year ago. Shortly after he graduated he was married to Miss Buckley, a wealthy English woman of Manchester, England. Dr. Acton and his wife went to live on East Seventy-ninth street. No one suspects that he had the remotest idea of committing suicide. There was no family trouble. The only thing that interfered in his happy married life was his love for drink. During the past four days he had been drinking hard and yet continued his work. Some time Wednesday night he decided to straighten himself up, and for that purpose swallowed a quantity of morphine. At midnight his wife became alarmed at his condition; he had lost consciousness. A carriage was called and Mrs. Acton accompanied her husband to the Presbyterian hospital. She remained by him all night, but before daylight Dr. Acton died.

MACES FOR MAYORS.

There will not be many of our mayors unadorned with chains of office, and goldsmiths are already at work fashioning these gilded baubles. In some instances, these emblems of authority have been presented to the new corporations by wealthy residents, and in others the gentlemen who are to be the first mayors have undertaken to bear the cost of securing the distinctive badge. But our mayors are not only to be adorned with gold chains, they will wear gowns fashioned after the style of those worn by the lord mayor, and a mace and mace-bearer is also regarded as a sine qua non in every borough. Indeed, at the moment there is more attention being given to those trifles than to the duties which the councils have been called into existence to discharge.—London Correspondent.

Japan will shortly be the strongest naval power in the far east. Three new warships have lately arrived from England, France and Germany and the Hatsuse is expected from England. In mere tonnage alone the four new vessels surpass the total tonnage of the eleven Japanese or the twelve Chinese ships that were present at the great sea fight in the Yellow sea.

A Missouri weather prophet who reads the future in the leaves of trees says this will be one of the mildest winters ever known on the continent.

WAIT FOR THE CONTRACTOR

NOTHING DOING IN SOUTH WAYNE SEWER MATTER.

Many Citizens Go to See the Collapse on Taylor Street—Air Test at Waterworks.

The caving of the South Wayne sewer along Taylor street, at the Wabash railroad crossing, as detailed in The Sentinel Thursday, together with the publication of Expert MacHarg's statement of the defects in the work, had the effect of bringing out a big crowd of citizens today, who visited the scene and noted the effect of the collapse of the trenches.

For some distance to the west of the Wabash tracks the sewer went in, carrying some of the masonry with it, though a portion of the cave-in occurred along the trench where the masonry had not yet been constructed. The board of works has done nothing in the matter as yet, and is now awaiting the appearance of Contractor Adams, who received his copy of the report this morning and is expected within a short time. Members of the board say the work must be completed in a satisfactory manner according to specifications, and they do not doubt but that the contractor will readily remedy all defects.

TESTING AIR SYSTEM.

Over at the No. 2 station of the waterworks the test of the Pohle system of compressed air for raising water from the deep rock wells has begun, though the system is not yet completed, and the tests thus far have been only preliminary. But one well is yet connected up. This is an eight-inch well in Lawton park, 500 feet in depth. An engineer of the Shaw-Kendall company, of Toledo, arrived this morning and is directing the work. The one well now connected was pumped but a few minutes and the operatives say the output of water does not furnish a basis upon which any estimate can be made. Six wells are to be connected—three north and three south of the station. It is expected to start the pumps again this afternoon.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The frowsy chrysanthemum is a native of Japan, but before it found a new home in America the world had no idea of its beauty.

A notice which was recently posted in a West Kensington London) church informed the public that five pews were for sale, and that said pews were "specially desirable" because "the contribution plate is not passed to them."

Christmas trees are already being cut down in Washington county, Maine, and the season's output from that section will amount to 400 carloads, with 300 bunches to a car. Each bunch consists of from two to six trees. The trees are sent to New York and Boston, where they will retail for about ten times as much as they are worth on board the cars in Maine.

New York is more interested in physical development today than ever before to judge from the appearance of the news stands and other evidences of the literary output on the subject. Apart from two or three magazines devoted exclusively to the subject in its various branches, there is no end to the books and pamphlets to be had on the subject.

The first deed conveying property to the proprietor of Pennsylvania, William Penn, is written in old Dutch and is now preserved in the city hall in Philadelphia. The property was what is now known as Lemon Hill, including the mansion and the Schuylkill river front, where the old Fairmount water works was located. There Penn kept his barge and some row boats, the barge carrying an admiral's pennant. It is said that there is only one man in Philadelphia who can now read this deed.

Between the towns of Los Angeles and Pasadena, Cal., there has been constructed an overhead path for the exclusive use of cyclists. The path is built of wood, varies from three feet to fifty feet in height, and has an average gradient of one in eighty. The path accommodates four machines abreast and is lit thoroughly by electric light.

The automobile is not a toy, but it means business and will use endeavors to roll itself into use as fast as possible. The manufacturers of the "autos" have a new scheme to interest the people of America in their machines, and they now propose to load up a special train with their vehicles and take an 8,000 mile trip around the country, stopping at every principal city to give an exhibition of what the automobile of today can do.

PRESIDENT KRUGER LEAVES MARSEILLES.

THE FAREWELL WAS CORDIAL

HOPES ENTHUSIASM WILL DO HIS CAUSE GOOD.

WANTS ACTION TO FOLLOW

THE NIGHT TO BE SPENT IN THE CITY OF DIJON.

Marseilles, Nov. 23—Though the enthusiasm attending Mr. Kruger's departure from Marseilles was not so boisterous and there was no such crowd present as awaited him on the quay when he landed yesterday from the Gelderland, he had no reason to complain of any diminution of warmth on the part of the people of Marseilles.

Mr. Kruger was up at an early hour and was ready and waiting when his landau reached the hotel to convey him to the railroad depot. Amidst the cheering of a large assembly the former president of the Transvaal entered his carriage at 9 o'clock and was driven to the station.

He was accompanied by Dr. Leyds and Messrs. Pearson, Wessels, Eloff, Fischer, Van Hammel, Rambaud and Heymen.

"Citizens of Marseilles: I thank the population of Marseilles for its warm welcome. I trust I shall find the same enthusiastic sympathy in all the cities which I am going to travel through and I hope it will be followed by actions which will continue to assist us and result in abetting our cause."

As the train left at 9:20 a great cry arose.

Mr. Kruger will spend the night at Dijon, where he will arrive at 5:20 this afternoon.

Extensive police precautions were taken this morning. Detachments of policemen were massed along the route from the hotel to the station, but Mr. Kruger's departure took place without any disagreeable incident.

GREETED AT AVIGNON.

Avignon, Department of Vaucluse, Nov. 23.—Avignon, the first stop of Mr. Kruger's train, was reached at 11 a. m. He was greeted by throngs of people, shouts of welcome and a band of music, and was presented with a basket of flowers, to which were attached the French and Boer colors.

The assistant mayor made a speech and Mr. Kruger responded briefly, showing signs of fatigue. He saluted with his hand while the crowd cheered him frantically. Mr. Kruger's train stopped here ten minutes.

GREAT CROWD AT VALENCE.

Valence, Department of Drome, Nov. 23.—The train having Mr. Kruger on board passed here at 1:45 p. m. and was cheered by a crowd of about 5,000 persons.

An enormous crowd was massed within and without the station. The mayor greeted Mr. Kruger in the name of the city, bouquets were presented to the traveler and words of sympathy and admiration for him were expressed.

Mr. Kruger stood before the open door of the railroad carriage and the train departed amidst the shouting of "vivas."

OFFICIAL RECOGNITION.

New York, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Paris to the Journal and Advertiser says:

The French government has decided that as England has not notified the powers of the annexation of the Transvaal, Kruger will be received at the Elysee, if he desires, as a foreign sovereign traveling incognito.

THE GAME TOMORROW.

The football game of the season in Fort Wayne will be played tomorrow afternoon at Centlivre park between the elevens of the Fort Wayne and Huntington high schools. A big delegation will be here to root for the visiting team, and there should be a good crowd of Fort Wayne people out tomorrow. The line-up of the Fort Wayne team will be as follows: Center, Adolph Schulz; right guard, M. Miller; right tackle, Arthur Schulz; right end, McCormick; left guard, Burger; left tackle, Hopkins; left end, A. Olds; quarter back, Barrows; right half back, Evans; left half back, Coppock; full back, Hamilton. The game will be called at 3 p. m.

WILL GO TO GAS FIELD.

President H. C. Paul, of the Fort Wayne Gas company, is arranging to have the members of the city council make a tour of the gas field next week to inspect the improvements that have been made by the Fort Wayne company during the summer. The trip will probably be made on Thursday or Friday.

WHERE THE MONEY IS USED

REPORT OF SALARY DIVISION OF POSTOFFICES.

The Annual Allowances for Clerk Hire and Other Interesting Facts Set Forth.

Washington, Nov. 23.—George W. Beavers, chief of the salary and allowance division of the postoffice department, in his annual report to the first assistant postmaster general, submits some interesting figures on the wide field covered in that office, which handles more appropriations than all the other divisions in the first assistant's office combined.

He shows that the total annual allowances for clerk hire at first, second, third and fourth-class offices on June 4, last, amounted to $12,080,130; for rent, fuel and light, $1,083,185; total allowances in connection with the military postal service, $90,370, and amount involved for rent of leased buildings, $922,992.

The total number of presidential offices at the beginning of the present fiscal year was 4,280. The net increase in salaries of postmasters at all presidential postoffices over the previous year was $402,600. The aggregate of the salaries was $7,423,600. The average salary of all postmasters on July 1 was $1,374. During the year forty-two full postal stations and 325 sub-stations were established. Twenty presidential postoffices were discontinued and made stations or sub-stations of other free delivery postoffices. The unprecedented growth of the service and the added cost of the insular service in Porto Rico and Hawaii necessitated an unusual increase in postal station expenses. Attention is called to the failure of the last congress to heed the very earnest demand of the department for an additional structure, centrally and conveniently located, in New York city for handling certain classes and conditions of mail.

"A poor service at New York," says the report, "means a poor service for the whole country."

The estimates include $2,100,000 for rent, fuel and light for the next fiscal year. The total estimates amount to $36,777,100, an increase of two and a quarter millions over the present year.

WAR IS NOT OVER

BRITISH GET DISQUIETING NEWS FROM AFRICA.

BOTHA NEAR DEWETSDORP

ORANGE FREE STATE MUST BE RECONQUERED.

DE WET AND BOTHA UNITED

FRENCH HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DISASTER.

London, Nov. 23.—The Star today, commenting on the report that General Botha, with his commando, is close to Dewetsdorp, regards the news as most disquieting and says:

"We have heard many strange and unverifiable stories, but one thing we know is that French was pursued all the way from Middleburg to Standarton and got through the terrible neck of the mountains only by the skin of his teeth."

Proceeding, the Star suggests that General Botha pursued the British, marched south and joined hands with General Dewet, and that thus Bloemfontein is endangered and the Orange Free State will have to be reconquered before the subduing of the Transvaal can be commenced. In connection with the above, a belated telegram today announces that General French arrived at Johannesburg November 17.

STORIES TOLD BY BOERS.

Kroonspruit, Orange River Colony, Thursday, Nov. 22.—General Bruce-Hamilton's column arrived here after scouring the Lindley and Heilbron districts. The troops brought in a number of prisoners. The latter relate the remarkable assurances they received at Thabanachu from General Dewet a fortnight ago. Dewet, they say, urged the burghers to hold out till December 10, when "all the British were going home."

He added that the British had the permission of Russia to fight for a year only; that Queen Victoria was at Cape Town, whither she had fled to escape the Chinese, who had captured half of England; that General Botha had driven the British out of the Transvaal and had taken Pietermaritzburg; that Dewet himself was fighting in Cape Colony, burning farms, and that Lord Roberts, wounded by three bullets, had been taken to Hielbron to die and had been buried there beneath the town hall.

WILL GET ROYAL WELCOME.

London, Nov. 23.—The returning Canadian troops on board the Hawarden Castle, due here next week, will be lavishly entertained by a private committee, of which Lord Grey is chairman. Three hundred seats have been secured at the various London theaters for each night the Canadians are here. They will be quartered at Kensington barracks, whence there will be excursions to Brighton, Woolwich and other points on interest, including a probable visit to the queen.

Lord Grey said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"They will not, exactly, be the guests of the nation, as that is reserved for the 5,000 colonial troops who are coming later. But, we are trying to make the short stay here of these Canadians as enjoyable as possible, as a slight token of our appreciation of the magnificent work they have done. It will be carried out with as little formality as possible."

LOST TO WABASH COMPANY

SUPREME COURT OVERRULES PETITION FOR REHEARING.

The Eel River Railroad Now Passes From Control of Wabash Into Original Hands.

The Sentinel's special correspondent in Indianapolis this afternoon wires that the supreme court has overruled the petition for rehearing in the case of the Eel River railway receivership suit, which has been pending in that court for the past year. The case has passed through two trials in the circuit courts of Cass and Howard counties.

The decision of the supreme court rendered some weeks ago was adverse to the company and the overruling of the petition for a rehearing disposes of the case permanently so far as the Indiana court is concerned.

The decision of the supreme court means that the Wabash company must now build another connecting line between its main line and the Detroit and Buffalo lines. By the law, as interpreted by the supreme court, the company cannot buy or lease the Eel River road, because that would be destroying competition, and the only way out of the predicament in which the Wabash will soon find itself is to build another road. The Fort Wayne and Butler road will connect the two Wabash lines, and its construction is now, it seems, almost assured.

SERVICES AT THE RINK.

Commencing next Sunday evening, the evangelistic services which are being conducted by Rev. W. E. Geil will be held in Princess rink. The services will be held in the rink during the week and will be brought to a close on Sunday evening, December 2.

A CONSULATE TO BE ESTABLISHED AT HARPOOL.

Action of the Turkish Government is Construed as a Violation of Treaty Rights.

Constantinople, Nov. 23.—The porte has definitely rejected the request for an exequatur for a United States consul at Harpool. This refusal is regarded by the United States legation as a direct violation of treaty rights, and, consequently, despite the refusal, Dr. Thomas H. Norton, who was appointed by President McKinley some time ago to establish a consulate at Harpool, has been directed to proceed to his post.

The expected visit of the battleship Kentucky to Smyrna is believed to relate quite as much to this matter as to the indemnity question.

NO NOTIFICATION AS YET.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The refusal of the Turkish government to grant an exequatur to the American consul at Harpool has not yet been notified to the state department.

It was scarcely expected that such notice would be made, as the Turkish way generally is procrastination rather than direct refusal, which serves the same end, without giving tangible ground for reprisals.

Dr. Norton, who was appointed consul at Harpool, has now been in Constantinople awaiting his exequatur about three months. The claim of the United States in this case was based upon article 2, of the treaty of May 7, 1830, which reads:

"And the United States may appoint their citizens to be consuls, and vice consuls at the commercial places in the dominions of the sublime porte where it shall be found needful to superintend the affairs of commerce."

The Turkish objection to the establishment of a consulate at Harpool and Erzeroum under this apparently clear permission has been based on the rather novel reason that there was no commerce at these two points, and it has been difficult for our officials to establish the contrary proposition.

But some time ago the Turkish government accorded to the British government the right to establish a consulate at Harpool, and the state department immediately based an additional claim of the "favored nation" clause of its general treaty, which would appear to warrant it in demanding the same privilege of establishing a consulate at a given point in Turkey as was granted to Great Britain.

BIG FIRM IS BANKRUPT.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 23.—A petition in bankruptcy has been filed by Barnes & LaDow, of Mechanicville, N. Y. The liabilities aggregate $32,996, of which $12,079 are unsecured. The assets are placed at $41,980, of which $21,800 is in real estate. The firm was engaged in the business of manufacturing doors and blinds.

WANT TO REORGANIZE.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The comptroller of the currency has been informed by National Bank Examiner Tucker, temporary receiver of the German National bank of Newport, Ky., that an effort is being made by the directors and stockholders of the bank to restore the bank to solvency.

Mrs. Henry C. Paul will entertain the Laetitia club this evening at her home, on West Wayne street.

POWERS PRODDED

STATE DEPARTMENT ISSUES A NEW CHINESE NOTE.

URGES PROMPT SETTLEMENT

IMPATIENT OF THE DELAY IN PEKIN ARRANGEMENT.

A CONFERENCE IN BERLIN

UNITED STATES AND GERMANY DRAW CLOSER.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The secetary of state has addressed an identical note to the powers interested in the Chinese situation, setting out tersely and afresh the object of the United States government as to China, and pointing out how such objects as are common to the powers can best be secured. The note marks the initiation of fresh negotiations on our part on the arrangement of new bases to tide over the impossible situation created at the last meeting of the ministers in Pekin.

Some responses already are at hand and it is stated that generally our advances have been well received and the state department expresses satisfaction at the results thus far received. It is believed that this is due to the extreme course suggested by some of the powers as to the treatment of China, and especially in the matter of punishments and indemnities to which the ministers at Pekin seem inclined. The intent is to push the negotiations on a more rational and business-like basis.

A CONFERENCE IN BERLIN.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—United States Ambassador White had an important interview yesterday with Baron Von Richthofen, the secretary for foreign affairs, at the foreign office. It is understood the interview took place as the result of instructions cabled from Washington, and that a somewhat lengthy discussion between the ambassador and secretary had reference entirely to the ideas of the United States government regarding the prosecution of the war in China and the co-operation of the United States with Germany and other European powers regarding conditions for peace; especially the penalties to be exacted and the indemnity to be secured. It is also understood that the most satisfactory and most friendly result was reached and that it is calculated to put at rest the disquieting rumors recently circulated regarding exhibitions of ill-feeling toward Germany in the American press, which, it is pretended here, were inspired from Washington.

SURRENDERED TO YORK.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Field Marshal Count Von Waldersee cables that Colonel York's column reached Hsuenghiva November 17. The weak garrison immediately surrendered.

The column commanded by Colonel Muclenfels, the dispatch adds, is proceeding to Auckiachwan. The health of the troops is good.

A NEW PROGRAM NECESSARY.

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to Reuter's news agency from Pekin, dated November 22, says:

"Competent independent judges of the present critical stage of the negotiations opine that the consideration of all the peace preliminaries should be transferred to Washington or to an European capital and be placed in the hands of plenipotentiaries possessed of full powers to arrange the terms to be imposed on China.

"Once the terms are agreed on they should be presented as a demand not requiring negotiations with the Chinese commissioners.

"It is felt that the present discussions of the ministers, who do not possess the powers to decide on the multiplicity of propositions without reference to their governments, are bound to interminably drag out the preliminaries and result in long delay, causing the greatest uneasiness in the foreign communities, who anticipate vastly increased difficulty in reaching a settlement, owing to the alleged waste of time."

FIXED A SPECIAL MEETING.

Not a quorum of the Commercial club directors were present at the meeting last evening and little was done aside from some general discussions. It was decided to hold a special meeting one week from next Tuesday evening, at which time the architect's plans for a union station will be considered. The club is arranging for an excursion into the city on December 18.

DINNER FOR THE POOR.

The City mission, at 170 West Main street, will give a Thanksgiving dinner from 11 to 1 o'clock on Thanksgiving day and services will follow the meal immediately. All the poor of the city are invited, as well as those who may feel led to aid in the work by bringing well-filled baskets of provisions.

HAND BADLY CRUSHED.

Louis Vollmer had his left hand badly crushed last evening at the Clausmeier implement store on Columbia street. It was caught in some machinery. Dr. E. A. Crull dressed the injury.

HIGGINS IS FOUND GUILTY

INDIANAPOLIS COUNCILMAN IS CONVICTED OF BRIBERY.

After a Long Deliberation the Jury Renders a Verdict—Penalty May be Heavy.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 23.—John M. Higgins, councilman from the Fifteenth ward, charged with soliciting a bribe from D. M. Parry, of the Parry Manufacturing company, was convicted last evening on the second count, which alleged that he solicited a bribe, without stating the amount desired. "Not guilty" was returned on the other three counts. The verdict came as a surprise, as it was generally expected that a disagreement would result or else an acquittal. The counsel for the accused at once submitted a motion for a new trial, pending which Mr. Higgins was transferred to the charge of the sheriff without bail.

The case will probably go to the supreme court. Meanwhile the preliminary steps have already been taken in the city council, on the charge as incorporated in the indictment, with a view of ousting Higgins as a member of that body. The whole trouble springs from a private switch which the complaining company was desirous of laying across several streets, and which was finally approved by the city council. Suspicion was first directed to Higgins because of rumors that he was offering to protect gamblers from police raids, and this led to a general investigation. The minimum penalty under the statute is two years' imprisonment and $500 fine. The jury was out twenty-four hours.

IN THE BANKRUPTCY COURT

DUKE OF MANCHESTER MAKES APPEARANCE.

Examination of His Case is Postponed Until His Return From the United States.

London, Nov. 23.—The duke of Manchester, who sails for the United States tomorrow, appeared before the registrar in bankruptcy today. The receiver told the court that the case must be adjourned, as the accounts were not yet filed, although fully prepared.

The liabilities disclosed, he added, amounted to £37,700; assets, £7,545. The receiver asked for time to examinet he accounts and interrogate the debtor.

Counsel for the trustee said that the committee of inspection had agreed to an adjournment. The duke of Manchester, he asserted, was prepared to enter the bond, if desired, but, counsel explained, his client was going abroad and anticipated returning to England February 2, 1901.

The examination was adjourned to that date.

HAWAIIAN POSTAL SERVICE.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The third assistant postmaster general has issued an order directing that as Hawaii is now a territory of the United States, with the domestic registration system in full operation there, all postmasters making up registered mails must address them not only with the postoffice name, but with that of the island on which the office is located, and add the name of Hawaii.

Lillie, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hiedekker, of 18 Thomas street, has been quite ill.

AGUINALDO DEAD

THE REPORT IS CREDITED BY MANILA NEWSPAPERS.

GENERAL TRIAS IN COMMAND

AGUINALDO WOUNDED IN FIGHT IN NORTHERN LUZON.

REPORTS SEEM RELIABLE

CONSUL WILDMAN SAYS REBEL LEADER IS LIVING.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The latest mail from Manila received at the war department brings an interesting budget of news from the islands, some of which heretofore has been touched on in press dispatches.

The Manila papers of October 18 devote considerable space to a renewal of the report concerning Aguinaldo's death in northern Luzon. They say that the circumstantial character of this report, together with the fact that General Trias recently has been signing himself "commander-in-chief of the insurgent forces," lends strong color to the belief that Aguinaldo may be dead.

The latest account in this line comes from Nueva Ecija, in northern Luzon, where, in an outpost skirmish, Aguinaldo's horse was killed and his saddle bags, with a number of personal papers were captured.

It seems that a non-commissioned officer at this place had gained the confidence of a native woman, Maria Ramierez, wife of a general on Aguinaldo's staff, and had secured considerable information as to the movements of the insurgents, much of which had proven to be correct. The woman told him that in the fight at Nueva Ecija, Aguinaldo was shot from his horse and severely wounded.

He was carried by his followers into the jungle and subsequently was reported to be ill with fever. His body afterwards was carried down the river on a raft, slung in a hammock and completely covered with palm leaves, but the natives who saw the passage of the raft were uncertain whether he was dead or alive.

This, together with the claims of Trias and others of the insurgent generals to the chief command of the army, lead the local Manila papers to give considerable credence to the story.

AGUINALDO BADLY WOUNDED.

New York, Nov. 23—United States Consul Wildman, says a World dispatch from Hong Kong, has information that recent correspondence between the junta and the insurrectionists is to the effect that Aguinaldo is still alive, but he is said to be suffering from a gun shot wound in his stomach.

REBEL LEADERS ARRESTED.

Manila, Nov. 23.—Dorotion Karragdag, an insurgent lieutenant colonel, and Manuelo Lazares, who, it is said, was General Torres' quartermaster, have been arrested in Bulacan province. Karragdag had previously been arrested and paroled.

SURRENDER A MURDERER.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The state department today issued a warrant for the surrender to the German authorities of Johnan Bauer, now under arrest at New York, charged with the murder of his father at Munchmenster, Bavaria. The allegations in the case show that the father, a dissipated old locksmith, having signified a purpose to marry again, thus cutting off the children's inheritance, the son, advising with his sister, decided to make away with his father. One day he went in the field and digging a hole, came back and informed his sister that he had prepared a grave for the old man. When the father returned, his son beat him to death with a shovel, put his body in a sack, loaded it into a wagon and carried it out and buried it in the place he had prepared. Then Bauer fled to America, where he was arrested on the confession of his sister.

In the botanical garden of Berlin is to be seen a cactus which has grown for seven years in a glass flask sealed by fusion. The growth of the plant was expected by the fact that the soil in which it grows contains a certain quantity of spores of fungi, which cover the sides of the flask with a greenish layer. These, in dying, furnish the carbonic acid necessary for the life of the cactus.

WAR ON THE EAST

BRYAN MEN WILL OPPOSE THE REORGANIZATION

OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY

BY THE ELEMENT THAT HAS FOUGHT HIM.

A BANQUET TO BE OCCASION

CHAIRMAN JONES HAS BRYAN OUT OF THE RUNNING.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 23.—At a public banquet to be given by the Jacksonian club in this city on December 26 Mr. Bryan will make his first speech since the close of the campaign, and this utterance will be in support of a movement to defeat the old-line democrats of the east in their proposed attempt to reorganize the democratic party along lines different from those advocated by Mr. Bryan.

The banquet is to be the most stupendous affair of the kind ever given in the west. All the prominent Bryan democrats of the country will be invited, among them Charles A. Towne, of Minnesota; Daniel Campau, of Michigan; Taggart, of Indiana; Blackburn, of Kentucky; Stone and Webster Davis, of Missouri; Cato Sells, of Iowa; John G. Johnson and David Overmeyer, of Kansas; Altgeld and Altchuler, of Illinois, and Patterson, of Colorado.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 23.—Senator James K. Jones, chairman of the democratic national committee, spent yesterday in Little Rock and left last night for Washington, D. C. He said before departure:

"The election result was a great surprise to all democrats. All were so confident of success that the sweeping republican victory came as a severe shock. Even on the evening of the day before election reassuring telegrams came from leaders that New York was safe for Bryan, and from leaders in other pivotal states that the democrats were sure to win. It was these forecasts which buoyed us up to the last moment and made the actual result more startling.

"But Mr. Bryan is a great man, one of the greatest in America today, and his influence will be felt for many years to come in American politics. He is a giant in intellect and simply indefatigable in the prosecution of a campaign. Whether he will be a candidate in the near future remains to be seen, but it is not probable that he will. It is more reasonable to presume that he would decline the nomination, even should it be offered to him.

"Reorganization? Oh, that's all nonsense. There's nothing in it, and it will blow over in thirty days. It is precipitated by those who deserted the party and gave aid and comfort to the enemy, and does not represent the strength or the spirit of the genuine democracy. What they would do is to adopt all the policies of the republican party and be democrats only in name.

"But, granting that there is cause or strength for so-called reorganization, who has the power within the party to do it now? Not the disgruntled disorganizers who have raised the issue. If there is to be a reorganization of national committee or platform it cannot be done for four years, or until the next national convention.

"As to the issues, that must depend largely upon the national and international developments of the next four years. It may be laid down primarily, however, that the democratic party will never vary from its established fundamentals—a strict construction of the constitution and an unswerving adherence to its principles and an economically administered government for the benefit of the governed.

"The silver question may solve itself. Should the amount of gold produced be ample to maintain a sufficient volume of metallic money and insure the stability of prices the silver question will be subordinated, but should the supply fall short of the demands of trade the silver question will be made prominent.

"The question of imperialism may also find a solution outside the ballot box. I believe the supreme court will decide against the Porto Rican law, and, should this be done, there will be a revulsion on the part of the republicans themselves against the retention of the Philippines. But just what the issue of 1904 will be no one can predict with any degree of certainty."

CALIFORNIA CITY FLOODED.

Anahiom, Cal., Nov. 23.—This city is threatened with inundation by the rise of the Santa Anna river. Over 100 families already have been driven from their homes near the river and it is feared that there has been loss of life in the lowlands below here. Anahiem is fifteen feet lower than the river and when the water got over the banks there was no way of checking its spread. During the night the Catholic cemetery was flooded to the depth of one foot, while the peat lands, where a large crop of celery is growing, has also been flooded. Along the Los Alamitos branch of the Southern Pacific railway more than a mile of track has been washed out. Santa Fe trains from Santa Anna are stalled here by the flooding of 3,000 feet of track beyond Fullerton.

GERMAN OFFICIAL FLEES.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Criminal Commissioner Von Tresckow Theil, who, it was announced in court yesterday, had absconded, has been arrested. Theil has been prominently connected with the case of Sternberg, the Berlin banker who has been on trial for some time past accused of an offense against morality.

THE FIGHTING IS DESPERATE

PROGRESS OF THE COLUMBIAN REVOLUTION.

Government Sustains Heavy Losses in an Attack on a Strong Rebel Position.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 23.—The British steamer Barbadian, which has just arrived here from Colon, reports that severe fighting occurred Monday and Tuesday at Culebra.

The government forces attacked the rebels, who occupied a good position, with the result that the losses of the former were heavy.

The fighting was proceeding when the steamer left Tuesday night.

The stores and restaurants at Colon were closed and the rebels held a portion of the railroad line.

Another rebel force was reported to be engaging the government troops near Panama.

Business is entirely suspended at the latter place and both Panama and Colon are in a state of terror.

The rebels are attacking in a determined manner and it is feared the slaughter will be great before decisive results are reached.

The liberals, it is asserted by the passengers of the Barbadian, hold Buenventura, though the Colombian government is making a great effort to regain possession of it, but thus far unsuccessfully.

BAR CIGARETTES IN IOWA.

Sioux City, Ia., Nov. 23.—The sale of cigarettes in Iowa has been discontinued as the result of a decision in the supreme court of Tennessee. Iowa dealers who sell them now do so at the peril of prosecution. Two agents of the American Tobacco company visited Sioux City to serve notice upon the dealers here that the company would no longer be responsible for the sale of cigarettes since the Tennessee decision. Iowa and Tennessee have similar cigarette laws, which require the payment of a mulct tax of $300 annually for permission to sell them, the view taken by the legislature being that they were injurious to the public health. The American Tobacco company commenced test cases in both states. The district court at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, decided that under the interstate commerce law they could not be excluded from the market so long as they were sold in original packages. Since then they have been sold in Iowa pending a decision of the supreme court.

The "axle light" system is to be applied on the trains of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad on an extensive scale. Each car will have its own storage batteries supplied with electricity generated by the axles of the wheels and the locomotive headlights will derive their illumination from the same source. It is calculated that each full train, exclusive of the locomotive, will develop nearly 5,000 candle power light.

An ingenious automobilist of Willoughby, Ohio, who operates an electric vehicle, has rigged up a connection between his stable and his barn by means of which he can, immediately the power is turned off at the trolley station for the night (his lighting current comes from the railway wires), switch his automobile storage battery into use, thus furnishing a current for lighting purposes for the remainder of the night.

Now comes the London Lancet and places tobacco as next to regular food in its benefits to the system. It is asserted that tobacco is a healthy and desirable stimulant for soldiers and those engaged in hard manual labor.

Business men who have offices and stores in the block between Washington and Wayne streets, on Calhoun street, are complaining much of the organ which is operated in the shooting gallery in the store formerly occupied by Kline & Davis. The instrument is run by machinery and is kept going nearly all day, much to the annoyance of the occupants of the adjacent buildings.

A Great Fight

Age and you seem to be having a terrible struggle. It's ten to one you will get whipped — unless you do something. Restore color to your gray hair with Ayer's Hair Vigor. You will look twenty years younger, and the fight with age will be over. Always restores color, never fails, never.

If you do not obtain the benefit you desire from use of the Vigor, write the Doctor about it. He will tell you just the right thing to do. Address, Dr. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Mass.

MACCABEES SMOKE.

Wayne Tent No. 54, K. O. T. M., at the regular meeting last evening initiated a class of ten candidates, after which a smoker was enjoyed. Deputy Great Commanders P. A. White, of Rome City, and S. L. Williams, of this city, were guests of honor. Progressive pedro was played and prizes were won by Earl Miller and John Christian. On the evening of December 20 the Maccabees will initiate a class of over 100 candidates with elaborate ceremonies. Since May 3, 220 new members have been received into the order.

THE ARMY OF HEALTH.

The Army In the Philippines Insignificant Compared With This One.

If all the people in the United States, Canada and Great Britain who make daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets could be assembled together it would make an army that would outnumber our army of one hundred thousand by at least five to one.

Men and women, who are broken down in health, are only a part of the thousands who use this popular preparation, the greater number are people who are in fair health but who know that the way to keep well is to keep the digestion perfect and use Stuart's Tablets as regularly as meal time comes to insure good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

Prevention is always better than cure and disease can find no foothold if the digestion is kept in good working order by the daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Calif., says: "Have used and recommended Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right."

Miss Lelia Dively, 4627 Plummer St., Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50 cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

From Mrs. Del Eldred, Sun Prairie Wis., "I was taken dizzy very suddenly during the hot weather of the past summer. After ten days of constant dizziness I went to our local physician, who said my liver was torpid and I had over heated my blood; he doctored me for two weeks without much improvement; I finally thought of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I had used long before for various bad feelings) and the first three tablets helped me.

"They are easily the best all around family medicine I ever used."

The army of people who take Stuart's Tablets are mostly people in fairly good health, and who keep well by taking them regularly after meals. They contain no opiates, cocaine or any cathartic or injurious drugs, simply the natural peptones and digestives which every weak stomach lacks.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere in United States, Canada and Great Britain.

Advices from the Philippines create the suspicion that some one must have been spreading false reports about the election.

Perry Belmont intimates broadly that any set of men who would use his name in giving authority to Richard Croker are not fit to associate with.

The Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain naturally considers those persons who exhibit undue interest in the business relations of his family with government contracts to be highly disloyal.

Military authorities may think very highly of the automobile; but for a motive power that will get the wagons up over all kinds of roads and in all kinds of weather the old-fashioned army mule has a long-standing reputation.

Just at present the gold is coming from the Arctic region. Receipts at Seattle assay office since July 1 amount to over $19,000,000. All of the fiscal year ending June 30 brought over $13,000,000; the year before $6,000,000. The rate of increase is what tells.

Without accepting literally the frequently made assertion that the president does not want a southern problem to disturb his second term under any circumstances, there seems no reason to doubt that at present the administration favors a waiting policy. Southern politicians, who are constantly dinning into the ears of northerners the assurance that with the race problem eliminated there will appear a strong white republican party in the south, doubtless exercises a very considerable influence in delaying action. Rhetoric, rather than facts or figures, is their chief instrumentality, for they are clever men who realize that data is against their contention. There is nothing in the election returns to indicate that the dominant white element in South Carolina, Louisiana and Mississippi are any more inclined toward the republican party than it was before the "grandfather clause" was thought of.

A report from Madrid asserts that the Hispano-American congress, by which Spain undertook to establish closer relations of friendship and commerce with the Spanish-American republics, was not a success. The interest of the Spanish people in the matter is stated to have been perfunctory; the delegates from South and Central America few, and the discourses for the main part consisted of generalities. It is a natural result that a nation which has so little leadership in the methods of commercial expansion should find it uphill work to make the racial kinship compensate for commercial shortcomings. Nevertheless, the congress represents an advance in the form of giving a distinct recognition that the only future relation of Spain to the countries which she once ruled can be the ties of race and mutual trade. The United States has as close a relation as Spain's to the Spanish-American republics, though of different nature. It consists of geographical proximity, the unity of political interest, and the community of republican government. It should not neglect the South American field, though the tendency now seems to be in the direction of doing so.

THE FRENCH DEMONSTRATION.

There is little doubt that the effusive welcome of President Kruger on his arrival at Marseilles was largely inspired by the French enmity to England. Of course, the indomitable resistance to the English conquest which he has displayed even in defeat has been a great influence in stimulating the manifestation of the sentiment. But if there had not been throughout France a powerful and bitter enmity to England it is doubtful if Kruger's arrival would have evoked a quarter of this display of popular sentiment.

There is nothing new in the existence of this feeling, for it is long standing, but the salient fact in this manifestation of it is that it has not before been displayed quite so obtrusively. The reception to Marchand had the pretext of being a welcome to a French officer after a long service in African exploration. Honors to European potentates supposed to support France against England were covered by the welcome due to all royal visitors. But the popular honors to Kruger are avowedly paid to him in his character of enemy and victim of English aggression. It is impossible to view it in any other light than as an undisguised demonstration of the popular feeling against England. Yet it is difficult to see what can come of it. It is not to be supposed that the government of France will by any official action support the cause of the Transvaal. Nor can England take any formal notice of a display of antagonistic French feeling. For the occasion of the display England has herself to thank. For the existence of the feeling some characteristic English traits are largely responsible, at least to the extent of intensifying the traditional French sentiment.

COFFEE WAR BEGINS.

New York, Nov. 23.—The Woolson Spice company has made a reduction of one cent per pound in roasted coffee. This was followed by a reduction by the Arbuckles of fifteen points in refined sugar. The National Sugar Refining company followed the Arbuckle cut. The American Sugar Refining company has not yet acted, but is expected to make a reduction of fifteen points.

THE TIME IS NOW

EVANGELIST GEIL'S SERMON

ACCEPT CHRIST BECAUSE YOU EXPECT TO LIVE.

GREAT AUDIENCE PRESENT

THE EVANGELIST REPLIES TO HIS CRITICS.

Before beginning his sermon at the Baptist Tabernacle last evening Evangelist Geil took occasion to reply at some length to criticisms which have appeared in the Journal-Gazette. He commended the newspaper reports which have been given of his sermons, and stated that he did not want his hearers to feel under obligations to go about "backing up" the evangelist. He advised them to direct their efforts toward saving souls. He commended the editorial criticism of the Journal-Gazette as being open and manly, though he of course did not agree with it. Complaint was made that the newspaper had used the terms "Christians" and "church-going folk" interchangeably, and the evangelist said: "I have never knowingly attacked any member of the church who has been living a godly life. I have assailed drunkards, or, rather, the drunkard-makers; I have assailed policemen in this city who drink with women in saloons at late hours; I have assailed the scribes and the pharisees, and rottenness social, moral and political, and if my editorial friend desires to pin his faith to them, I admire his courage and frankness. Concerning credentials, I have two—the Old Testament and the New. I can not furnish better ones."

The writer who signed a nom de plume to his communication was handled rather more severely for failing to make his identity clearly known and for seeking to hide behind a great religious denomination. He condemned spotted cards as the gamblers' game the world over and inveighed against their introduction into any home. Continuing he said: "I propose to tell the truth. I have never been bought. I never will be bought, and I tell you the influence of this rich man shall not affect me more than would the word of the humblest of earth." Rev. Geil conveyed the idea that the writer's identity was fully established in his own mind, and he closed by inviting him to dine with him today at the New Aveline; that if he could do him any good service he would be glad of the opportunity.

WHERE IS THE DEVIL?

This was the inquiry with which the evangelist began the evening discourse. Continuing, he said: "Paul and Silas were in jail when the angel came to them, broke down the locks, kicked off the stocks and loosed Paul and Silas. They were in the midst of a revival meeting. The jailer jumped in. What sort of man is the jailer? A bad man? An arch-criminal in charge of prisoners? No; that sort of man is never placed over such an institution. He is a law-abiding, law-respecting, honorable, upright man. Do you think the arch-criminal is placed in charge of hell? I tell you Milton is mistaken. The devil has never been in hell; he is not there now. Then where is he?

"In Rev. 19:20 we are told of the first beings cast alive into hell—the beast and the false prophet were cast alive into the lake of brimstone. A little further along, in Rev. 20:10 (and this is looking off into the future) is recorded the first time the devil was to be cast into the Lake of fire and brimstone. So the punishment of the devil, at least as to length, is to be the same as the punishment of those (Matt. 25:41) who reject Christ—forever and forever. And who are the lost souls? Those who have died without repentance. Selfish men? Yes. Over in the gospel of Luke God for a time throws up the blinds and gives us a glimpse of hell. Two rich men died; this is the foundation of the parable. One went to paradise and the other to hell. Riches alone did not condemn him, for the other, equally rich, gained eternal life.

MAN AT PRAYERS.

"Our only real look into hell shows us a strange sight—a man at prayers. Why, my friends, when the redeemed pass over, there'll be no praying; no preaching; no prayers, for then all things are ours. There'll be nothing to ask for. There'll be no taking up collections then. I said that in a sermon once before and one fellow down in the audience cried: 'Praise the Lord.' I replied: 'O, you stingy little rascal, you won't be there!'

"My friends, by a decree that is irrevocable, you will pray somewhere, either in this world or in the world to come. Those who do not pray in this world will have it all to do in the next. The man in hell is the man at prayers. God help you to get all your praying done here, so you'll have none left over. After death the only place you can pray is in hell.

"I want you to picture upon one side of me tonight a cradle and on the other a casket. I kneel down, clasping with one hand the cradle and with the other the casket. I'm going to pray—first, toward the cradle and then toward the casket. Kneeling in the narrow span of a human life I turn toward the cradle and pray, 'Forgive all my sins from the cradle to the casket;' toward the casket, 'Give me a pure life until casket time.' O, I want you to get down between the cradle and the casket tonight and pray both ways.

"Man, woman, boy, girl, get your praying done between the cradle and the casket. Beyond the latter the only place you can pray is in hell. That man in hell cries for the salvation of his five brethren. He's on the wrong side of the casket to ask for salvation. The place for prayer is on this side, where we can reach out and help to answer the prayer. Pray now.

"There are eight classes of people who are going to be hurled into the lake of fire. I'm not dealing with that lake now as though it were but a figure; but if it were only a figure, how much more dreadful must be the realization. Rev. 21:8—that's my text: 'But the fearful'—that's one crowd. Afraid of what, man will say. Not standing up for Christ; permitting men to frown and sneer upon the Savior."

The evangelist told the story of a judge who ridiculed the idea of holding service in a hotel ball room, when it was the only available place that could be used, but who was finally converted in that very place. "You draw a line; you say 'I'll never be saved there.' You'll be saved just there or not at all. You'll be saved in the Lord's way or not at all—'the fearful, the unbelieving, and the abominable, and the murderers,' etc. I wish I had more time, my friends, to take up each of these eight pitiable classes of people.

"My friend, are you saved or lost tonight? Are you in the track of prayer? In the broad road or on the narrow way? I want to put this matter to you so it will grip you. One of the old-time sledge-hammer preachers once swung his long arm with a vehement gesture straight toward a little boy upon the front seat and said: 'Anybody who doesn't pray will never go to heaven.' The little fellow was startled and at the close of the service he scurried home and going to his father said: 'Papa, do you pray?' 'Who put you up to that, boy; your mamma or your aunt?' 'Neither, papa, but the preacher said all who did not pray could not go to heaven. Papa, which way are you going?'

"I want to ask that same question solemnly tonight. You may be dead tomorrow, though I do not expect it. We are hearty and strong, and I ask you to accept Christ as your Savior because you expect to live."

ACTORS WITH SMALLPOX.

Pittsburg, Nov. 23.—Harry Winfred and George W. Pickett, members of the Williams & Walker Theatrical company, at present playing in this city, were taken to the Municipal hospital last night suffering from smallpox. When the health officials discovered the contagion in the company, they at once went to the theater and vaccinated the entire troupe of forty actors. The company came here from Rochester, N. Y., last Sunday, and it is not known where the disease was contracted. On account of the prompt precautions taken, no apprehensions of the spreading of the infection is felt by the authorities.

INDIANS ARE STARVING.

Sandiego, Cal., Nov. 23.—Hundreds of Indians on the Mesa Grande reservation are reported to be the verge of starvation because of the failure of their supplies of manzanita berries and acorns, due to drought last June.

TALKED TO BOARD OF WORKS

OIL BELT TRACTION COMPANY IS HEARD.

Will Apply Monday for Permission to Enter City—Other Notes of the Meeting.

Messrs. George Townsend, William H. Reid and John P. Dales, of Chicago, Attorney N. D. Doughman and C. C. Miller, of this city, were in conference with the board of public works at the regular meeting last evening. The gentlemen gave notice that the Oil Belt Traction company would soon make application for a franchise permitting that interurban electric railway to enter the city of Fort Wayne, and submitted maps and plans showing the route desired, explained the equipment to be used upon the road and stated that they desired to begin work at once.

The Oil Belt company has already secured the right-of-way over a large part of the line, and they desire to enter Fort Wayne over the Taylor street bridge on Hale avenue to the limits at Lavinia avenue. The route to be asked for is as follows: On Lavinia avenue north to Taylor street; thence east to Fairfield avenue; north to Brackenridge street; west to Fulton street; north to Pearl street; east to Harrison street; north to Columbia street, and east on Columbia to Calhoun. This is the same route granted to the Indiana and Ohio Traction company some months ago. The latter company's franchise provided, however, that any company asking for the same right-of-way before the then grantees had begun work, would be given it, and allowed to build the road, and the original grantee would be allowed to use it upon agreeing to stipulated terms as to cost of maintenance, etc. Under this clause the board is at liberty to give the oil belt people a franchise over the same route, with first consideration, so long as the Indiana and Ohio company has not started to build.

The gentlemen stated that they were backed by ample capital, and desired to begin the work of construction at once, without waiting for the floating of bonds. They say the iron will be distributed and grading begun as soon as weather permits, and the line to Huntington will be in operation within a year. The road is to be heavily ballasted, 70-pound rails are to be used, and the cars will be of the large passenger type, weighing 35,000 pounds each.

The board invited the company to file a formal application for a franchise at the meeting of the board Monday afternoon. The board is disposed to regard the requests of the company favorably, and there is likely to be very little delay in granting the franchise.

NOTES OF THE SESSION.

The franchise of the American District Telegraph company was signed by the board and sent to the council for approval.

The final hearing on the Third street pavement matter was postponed until November 30.

A petition was received for an electric lamp at the corner of Creighton and Hoaglund avenues.

The board will hold no meeting on next Thursday on account of it being a legal holiday.

REBELS SEIZE SEAPORTS.

New York, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Herald from San Juan, Porto Rico, says: The Venezuelan consul in this city has received a cable dispatch from Caracas saying that the rebels have seized the principal seaports of Colombia. The news was conveyed by a steamer, which arrived at LaGuayra from the west.

A ROYAL BETROTHAL.

New York, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from St. Petersburg says the betrothal of Prince Louis Napoleon Bonaparte to Grand Duchess Helen, daughter of the Grand Duke Vladimir, is officially announced.

Boys' Reefers...

To please both mother and the boy. Boys' tastes do not always harmonize with their mothers'. It has been our constant study to bring both together, and we think we have solved the difficulty by showing a garment a little longer than the usual Reefer, a little more stylish, with a storm collar, such as has always been put on Ulsters—thus giving the boy ample protection around the neck and ears. We have them in Chinchillas—blue, brown and Oxfords—also in Friezes, at prices ranging from

$1-50 to $6.00

There is no garment a boy can wear to as good advantage as a Reefer. It takes the place of an Overcoat and does not interfere with his playing—as it is not cumbersome like an ulster.

CATARRH

Catarrh has become such a common disease that a person entirely free from this disgusting complaint is seldom met with. It is customary to speak of Catarrh as nothing more serious than a bad cold, a simple inflammation of the nose and throat. It is, in fact, a complicated and very dangerous disease; if not at first, it very soon becomes so.

The blood is quickly contaminated by the foul secretions, and the poison through the general circulation is carried to all parts of the system.

Salves, washes and sprays are unsatisfactory and disappointing, because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does. It cleanses the blood of the poison and eliminates from the system all catarrhal secretions, and thus cures thoroughly and permanently the worst cases.

Mr. F. H. McAllister, of Harrodsburg, Ky., writes: "Having been a terrible sufferer from Catarrh, and being now sound and well, the question often put to me is, 'What cured you?' In answer I feel it my duty to state that Swift's Specific is the medicine. I am such a true believer in the efficacy of Swift's Specific that I can honestly and conscientiously recommend it to any one suffering from Catarrh. Have recommended it to many, and am happy to say that those whom I have induced to use it can bear me out in the statement that it will cure any case of Catarrh if taken according to directions."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known, and the greatest of all blood medicines and tonics.

If you have Catarrh don't wait until it becomes deep-seated and chronic, but begin at once the use of S. S. S., and send for our book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians about your case.

THE AIM WAS BAD

ASSASSINS TRY TO KILL DR. PETER DRAYER.

A HARTFORD CITY MYSTERY

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 23.—About 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night an attempt was made on the life of Dr. Peter Drayer, one of the oldest practicing physicians of this city. His residence is only half a block from the court house, and he was passing an alley near it when two men, who concealed themselves until within twenty feet of him, fired two shots at him. Neither took effect. The men ran out of the alley and down the main street, but he failed to recognize them. He is unable to account for the attempted murder.

[Dr. Peter Drayer, of Hartford City, is the father of Dr. L. F. Drayer, city chemist of Fort Wayne. He is one of the best known physicians in North Central Indiana.]

JURY REFUSED TO CONVICT.

Wabash, Ind., Nov. 23.—The trial of James Dennis, the negro porter who was charged with attempting to murder Walter Davis, an employe of the city, last week, was concluded yesterday in the circuit court, the jury rendering a verdict of acquittal. Dennis, it was alleged by Davis and his wife, entered the bedroom and tried to chloroform Davis. The latter jumped out of bed and grappled with Dennis, locked him in a room and summoned the officers.

POSTMASTERS WARY.

Kokomo, Ind., Nov. 23.—It is rumored here that Congressman Steele will insist on the removal of all four-year postmasters in this (the Eleventh) district and that the places be given to new men. This will spread consternation among the army of postmasters who felt themselves safe with McKinley's re-election. The postmasters who are to be cut off with one term are reminding Steele of his eighth term in office as congressman and think it in bad form for him to go after them with his ax at the close of a single term. Two candidates are announced for the Kokomo office, now held by Taylor Whiteker, an old soldier. The candidates are J. A. Kautz, of the Kokomo Tribune, and E. A. Simmons, chairman of the republican county committee, neither of whom was a soldier, either in the civil or Spanish war.

THREE HOURS OF AGONY.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 23.—Elmer Coffel, 20 years old, of Mier, Grant county, was caught under a falling tree on the Pence farm north of Mier yesterday afternoon. His thigh was severely crushed and he received other severe injuries. The victim's recovery is doubtful. Coffel was cutting down the tree when it fell unexpectedly, pinning the axman to the ground. Help was slow coming and the injured man spent three hours under the tree before he was relieved.

RECEIVED A CHARGE OF SHOT.

Union City, Ind., Nov. 23.—J. Skillman, manager of the Standard Oil company at this point, yesterday received a full charge of bird shot in his thigh, side and shoulder, and that the wound did not prove fatal was due to the extra heavy hunting coat he wore. The hunting party consisted of Charles Proctor, a druggist of this city; Mr. Keenan, superintendent of the Standard Oil company at Dayton, O., and Mr. Skillman. The shot that struck Mr. Skillman was fired by Mr. Keenan while all were shooting at quail. Mr. Skillman will recover, although seventy-five shot were picked out of his body.

CLOSING DOWN TO INVOICE.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 23.—Gaar, Scott & Co., thrashing machine manufacturers of this city, have closed one of the most prosperous years in their history. On Saturday evening the plant will shut down in all departments for one week for the purpose of invoicing. Both Gaar, Scott & Co. and Robinson & Co. deny having any knowledge regarding the story that the thrashing machine trust will soon be a reality. Both concerns were to have been merged in the great combine last winter, had the project on foot carried through and optimism was given as the plants. Officials of these companies now say, however, that if there is any movement to revive the trust, they have no information of it other than that which was published a few days ago.

DELIA, THE PROPHET.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 23.—Mrs. George Overby, the colored woman, of Baptisttown, a settlement in the northern part of this city, continues to keep her race greatly stirred because of her prophecies. Last week she predicted that the city of St. Louis would be destroyed by water, because of the wickedness of the people. The colored people of Baptisttown are still fasting and praying and they expect Judgment Day to come at any time. Mrs. Overby is going to St. Louis, and then she will continue her journeyings to Canada, to spread the gospel. She contends that the Lord has called her, and that hereafter she will be known as Delia, the prophet. She is 40 years old, and can not read or write, although she knows the Bible almost by heart.

BURGLARS EXECUTE A RAID.

Rochester, Ind., Nov. 23.—Wednesday night burglars made a foray on this city, robbing a number of places. They entered Ross' foundry, the Lake Erie and Western railway depot, the tool house belonging to the section men of that road, Duncan & Gaffyn's elevator, the Indianapolis Brewing company's local office, Myers' planing mill and the Erie grain elevator. Several safes were forced, and a number of money drawers were rifled. They realized but little by their work.

DISSOLUTION ORDERED.

Goshen, Ind., Nov. 23.—There was a called meeting of the Fort Wayne Presbytery in this city yesterday afternoon, to act on the resignation of Rev. F. H. Gwynne, D. D., in charge of the First Presbyterian church at Elkhart, whose congregation had refused to permit his retirement. Dr. Gwynne desires to return to Dillon, Mont., where he formerly resided. The dissolution was made as requested.

FOOT BALL PLAYER DEAD.

New York, Nov. 23.—An overdose of morphine taken to relieve suffering caused by an over indulgence in liquor ended the life of Dr. Robert Acton, a physician and well known foot ball player on the Harvard team in 1893. He died in the Presbyterian hospital.

Robert Acton was born in Ireland and came to this country nine years ago. He entered Harvard college and graduated from there about one year ago. Shortly after he graduated he was married to Miss Buckley, a wealthy English woman of Manchester, England. Dr. Acton and his wife went to live on East Seventy-ninth street. No one suspects that he had the remotest idea of committing suicide. There was no family trouble. The only thing that interfered in his happy married life was his love for drink. During the past four days he had been drinking hard and yet continued his work. Some time Wednesday night he decided to straighten himself up, and for that purpose swallowed a quantity of morphine. At midnight his wife became alarmed at his condition; he had lost consciousness. A carriage was called and Mrs. Acton accompanied her husband to the Presbyterian hospital. She remained by him all night, but before daylight Dr. Acton died.

MACES FOR MAYORS.

There will not be many of our mayors unadorned with chains of office, and goldsmiths are already at work fashioning these gilded baubles. In some instances, these emblems of authority have been presented to the new corporations by wealthy residents, and in others the gentlemen who are to be the first mayors have undertaken to bear the cost of securing the distinctive badge. But our mayors are not only to be adorned with gold chains, they will wear gowns fashioned after the style of those worn by the lord mayor, and a mace and mace-bearer is also regarded as a sine qua non in every borough. Indeed, at the moment there is more attention being given to these trifles than to the duties which the councils have been called into existence to discharge.—London Correspondent.

Japan will shortly be the strongest naval power in the far east. Three new warships have lately arrived from England, France and Germany and the Hatsuse is expected from England. In mere tonnage alone the four new vessels surpass the total tonnage of the eleven Japanese or the twelve Chinese ships that were present at the great sea fight in the Yellow sea.

WAIT FOR THE CONTRACTOR

NOTHING DOING IN SOUTH WAYNE SEWER MATTER.

Many Citizens Go to See the Collapse on Taylor Street—Air Test at Waterworks.

The caving of the South Wayne sewer along Taylor street, at the Wabash railroad crossing, as detailed in The Sentinel Thursday, together with the publication of Expert MacHarg's statement of the defects in the work, had the effect of bringing out a big crowd of citizens today, who visited the scene and noted the effect of the collapse of the trenches.

For some distance to the west of the Wabash tracks the sewer went in, carrying some of the masonry with it, though a portion of the cave-in occurred along the trench where the masonry had not yet been constructed. The board of works has done nothing in the matter as yet, and is now awaiting the appearance of Contractor Adams, who received his copy of the report this morning and is expected within a short time. Members of the board say the work must be completed in a satisfactory manner according to specifications, and they do not doubt but that the contractor will readily remedy all defects.

TESTING AIR SYSTEM.

Over at the No. 2 station of the waterworks the test of the Pohle system of compressed air for raising water from the deep rock wells has begun, though the system is not yet completed, and the tests thus far have been only preliminary. But one well is yet connected up. This is an eight-inch well in Lawton park, 500 feet in depth. An engineer of the Shaw-Kendall company, of Toledo, arrived this morning and is directing the work. The one well now connected was pumped but a few minutes and the operatives say the output of water does not furnish a basis upon which any estimate can be made. Six wells are to be connected—three north and three south of the station. It is expected to start the pumps again this afternoon.

NOTES OF THE DAY.

The frowsy chrysanthemum is a native of Japan, but before it found a new home in America the world had no idea of its beauty.

A notice which was recently posted in a West Kensington London) church informed the public that five pews were for sale, and that said pews were "specially desirable" because "the contribution plate is not passed to them."

Christmas trees are already being cut down in Washington county, Maine, and the season's output from that section will amount to 400 carloads, with 300 bunches to a car. Each bunch consists of from two to six trees. The trees are sent to New York and Boston, where they will retail for about ten times as much as they are worth on board the cars in Maine.

New York is more interested in physical development today than ever before to judge from the appearance of the news stands and other evidences of the literary output on the subject. Apart from two or three magazines devoted exclusively to the subject in its various branches, there is no end to the books and pamphlets to be had on the subject.

The first deed conveying property to the proprietor of Pennsylvania, William Penn, is written in old Dutch and is now preserved in the city hall in Philadelphia. The property was what is now known as Lemon Hill, including the mansion and the Schuylkill river front, where the old Fairmount water works was located. There Penn kept his barge and some row boats, the barge carrying an admiral's pennant. It is said that there is only one man in Philadelphia who can now read this deed.

Between the towns of Los Angeles and Pasadena, Cal., there has been constructed an overhead path for the exclusive use of cyclists. The path is built of wood, varies from three feet to fifty feet in height, and has an average gradient of one in eighty. The path accommodates four machines abreast and is lit thoroughly by electric light.

The automobile is not a toy, but it means business and will use endeavors to roll itself into use as fast as possible. The manufacturers of the "autos" have a new scheme to interest the people of America in their machines, and they now propose to load up a special train with their vehicles and take an 8,000 mile trip around the country, stopping at every principal city to give an exhibition of what the automobile of today can do.

Every boy likes a Reefer. It keeps him warm and is not in his way. We are showing many new styles.

We offer a limited amount of the full paid, nonassessable stock of the Par Value Gold Mining company, at 50 cents per share for working capital.

The capital stock of the company is only $250,000; ¼ of the usual capitalization of mining companies, on which basis this offer is equivalent to 12½ cents per share.

Its property is located in the richest section of the Cripple Creek mining district, which will produce $30,000,000 gold this year, and is surrounded by and near to the Independance, Portland, Gold Coin, Strong and other great producers worth $60,000,000 and paying millions of dollars in dividends.

Cripple Creek is the most prosperous and profitable mining district in the world, and thousands of merchants, mechanics, workingmen and others have realized fortunes from thousands of dollars to millions within eight years, while the camp is only in its infancy.

The Par Value property is a working proposition, equipped with machinery, and will be producing within ninety days, and earning money for its stockholders. Over $100,000 has been taken from its veins within 300 feet of its shaft. It is a legitimate business proposition, managed by experienced mining men for the best results to the stockholders.

The company also controls the stock of a corporation, which owns 145 acres of valuable mining land in the Cripple Creek district, in addition to the property which it is now operating. The Creston Leasing Co., operating on the same basis as the Par Value earned and paid $472,000 last year in dividends, or $15,750 to each of its 30 stockholders, who had paid in but $600 each, or $26 on each $1.00 invested.

Reliable estimates show that this company can earn $25,000 per month net from the present property and an addition which it contemplates, equal to over 100 per cent per annum on the capitalization and 200 per cent on the present price of its shares (50 cents). One half of this, or 100 per cent, would yield an income of $50 per year, on an investment of $50; $100 on $100; $500 on $500; $1,000 on $1,000, and $5,000 on $5,000 invested.

The Elkton company has paid $900,000; Gold Coin, $540,000; Lottie Gibson, $697,500; Portland, $3,127,000; Victor, $1,255,000; Vindicator, $466,000; Stratton's Independance, $976,000, and 45 other companies from $10,000 to $320,000 in dividends each, and all are in the same district as the Par Value.

The Par Value is the best mining proposition for investors that can be presented, integrity of management, location and value of property, richness of ore, cheapness of mining and treatment, low capitalization, price of shares and work going on, considered. It is not a prospect or experiment, but a proven working mine. As the amount of stock for sale is small, those wanting shares should apply at once.

We will carry this stock three months on a margin of 25 cents per share, while the price remains at 50 cents, and on 50 cents per share margin when it advances to $1.00 per share, with interest at 6 per cent. As soon as the present allotment is sold, the price will be advanced to $1.00. Prospectus on application.

WORK IS FINISHED

INDIANA GRAND LODGE, I. O. O. F., HAS ADJOURNED.

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

THOMAS R. JESSUP, OF RICHMOND, GRAND MASTER.

JEWELS ISSUED TO VETERANS

PREPARE TO ENTERTAIN THE SOVEREIGN GRAND LODGE.

Indianapolis, Nov. 23.—The Indiana grand lodge, I. O. O. F., finished its work and adjourned at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The amendment to the general laws proposed on Wednesday by Alexander Johnson, of Fort Wayne, caring for surviving members or defunct lodges, called forth quite a warm debate.

The amendment was upheld by a number of speakers, who argued that the change is only just to lifelong members, but was opposed by others, who said that to pass the amendment would be to put a premium on having lodges turn in their charters. The matter was finally referred over to the next meeting of the lodge in May.

The lodge adopted a resolution commending the administration of Grand Master Chappel, which has just closed, and ordered new regalia to be purchased for the grand officers. The laws were modified to provide that members who are behind in their dues must be notified every three months for a year before they can be dropped. It was also decided to allow past grand masters who attend the grand lodge mileage and per diem expenses. Officers were elected as follows:

THE NEW OFFICERS.

Grand Master—Thomas R. Jessup, Richmond.

Deputy Grand Master—G. P. Bornwasser, New Albany.

Grand Warden—E. E. Pryor, Martinsville.

Grand Secretary—W. H. Leedy, Indianapolis.

Grand Treasurer—W. A. Morris, Frankfort.

Grand Trustees—C. C. Brinkley, Richmond, and Enoch G. Hoognte, Danville.

Grand Representative—M. H. Chappel, Knightstown.

Grand Chaplain—J. M. Baker.

Grand Instructor—Will H. Talbott, Orleans.

Grand Marshal—L. N. Cox, Richmond.

Grand Conductor—H. C. Ray, Shelbyville.

Grand Guardian—John A. Markly, Germantown.

Assistant Grand Guardian—B. F. Butler, Goodland.

Grand Herald—Robert Knox, Mecca.

The morning session yesterday was devoted to the exemplification of the unwritten work and in the afternoon the installation of the new officers took place.

DEATHS NUMBER 372.

During the term from January 1 to June 30, 1900, there were 272 deaths and 3,949 cases wherein relief was granted. The relief paid out was $14,807 greater than for the previous term. The average resources of the grand lodge were reduced from $47.13 to $44.83 a member.

SET ASIDE $5,000.

The grand lodge, at its meeting Wednesday afternoon, appropriated $5,000 to be used in entertaining the sovereign lodge which is to meet in Indianapolis next September. With the amount appropriated by the grand encampment on Tuesday this makes $7,500 in all that has been voted by the Odd Fellows of Indiana toward entertaining the sovereign lodge. A special committee consisting of W. H. Leedy, John B. Cockrum, Charles C. Brinkley, Enoch G. Hogate, M. A. Chipman, D. B. Shisler, George Shirts, William H. Talbott and John F. Wallick was appointed to have charge of the arrangements for entertaining the sovereign grand lodge.

The present convention is the largest ever held in the state. Over 1,000 representatives are in attendance, and the large halls in which the meetings are being held were crowded to overflowing yesterday. The large attendance is due to the new lodges instituted during the year.

REPORTS OF OFFICERS.

Grand Master M. H. Chappell, of Knightstown, called the assembly to order and offered his report.

The report of W. H. Leedy, grand secretary, showed that the total membership June 30, 1900, was 52,670, a net gain of 2,689 in six months and of 3,961 for the year. The financial statement showed:

The receipts of the lodges for the term ending June 30, 1900, were $275,714.21; expense to lodges, $63,440.52; expense of lodges, including relief, $178,903.64; dues to grand lodge, $13,329.49; home tax collected, $6,062.42. The resources, including $310,626.42 in cash on hand in the lodges, was $2,688,417.07; the indebtedness, $326,931.94; leaving the net resources $2,361,485.13. There was expended for relief $115,468.12 in the term and $210,006.83 during the year.

In concluding his report Mr. Leedy referred to the fact that Indianapolis entertained the sovereign grand lodge in 1875, when the Indiana membership numbered only 25,000. Governor Thomas A. Hendricks was then at the head of the entertainment committee.

Grand Treasurer John F. Wallick reported that he had $9,905.22 on hand October 31 of this city. The grand lodge hall association reported $4,034.98 on hand.

HORRIBLE CONDITIONS EXIST

AMONG THE CHINESE ON BOARD ALASKAN VESSELS.

Have Returned From the Canneries With Many Sick and Danger is Apprehended.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Horrible conditions existing among the Chinese aboard vessels in the Alaskan salmon canning industry are portrayed in a report Assistant Surgeon L. L. Lumsden, at Angel's Island, Cal., has just made to the marine hospital service. He says a number of vessels have returned to San Francisco recently from the Alaskan country with a history of several deaths of Chinese workers. There were no physician aboard, and as a rule no satisfactory account of the nature of the illness was obtainable or the responsible persons.

"These vessels," says the report, "sail from San Francisco in March and April, each vessel taking about 125 Chinese to work at the canneries. Last spring nearly 3,000 Chinese were taken from San Francisco for this work. Bubonic plague was known to exist in their section of the city at the time of their leaving, and no precautionary measures to prevent an outbreak among them were taken."

Dr. G. C. Stemen reports five cases of scarlet fever in the family of Mr. Martin, a railroad man, at 1 Dawson street. Mrs. Martin, three children and the domestic are down with the disease.

Mothers, be sure and use "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. may8eod&w

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 23.—There was heavy realizing at the opening of the stock market, which was manifest in the Pacific railroads stocks and the steel stocks. Steel and Wire sold at the opening at 47½ to 47, compared with 47 last night, but Tennessee Coal was off 1¼. There were some sharp advances in other stocks. Chesapeake and Ohio rising 2¼ on running sales. Amalgamated Copper was dealt in for the first time in the unlisted department of the exchange and the first sales of 4,000 shares were at 99½ to 99⅝. The stock afterwards fell back to about 99. The quotations in the outside market at the closing last night was 95⅛.

An ineffectual attempt was made to hold the market by advancing St. Paul, New York Central and Chesapeake and Ohio. Enormous sales of the Steel stocks broke down the barrier and everything quoted fell away rapidly. Stop loss orders were uncovered and long stock was brought out freely. The greatest declines were made in the specialties. Tennessee Coal losing 3¼, Steel and Wire and Rubber common and preferred 3½ each and Metropolitan Street Railway, Tobacco and Colorado Fuel over 2 points. A long list of other stocks, including leading railroads and specialties, lost from 1 to 1½. Amalgamated Copper dropped below 98. There was a relaxation of pressure near 11 o'clock and some notable rallies extending to 2 in Steel and Wire.

Prices of a few stocks rose above to opening prices, the tone of the market being improved by a rise to 142½ in New York Central. A raid on Sugar sent it down to 133⅝, but this maneuver did not immediately affect the general market. Pressure was put on Northern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and Missouri Pacific, and as these stocks yielded easily a general attack was made against the railroad list.

Low prices were made all around for the standard stocks, with losses running above 2 points in some cases. Some of the specialties reached the low mark also, but the main group was above the lowest.

Bonds were comparatively quiet and irregular.

RUMORS OF PENNSYLVANIA CHANGES CIRCULATED.

CHARLES WATTS WILL RETIRE

A. B. STARR WILL BE GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT.

BIG FOUR MAKES CHANGES

ZEEBEE GOES FROM WABASH TO INDIANAPOLIS.

Pittsburg and Indianapolis papers have revived the rumors concerning alleged contemplated changes in the official roster of the Pennsylvania company. The following, which is taken from the Indianapolis Journal is a fair sample of the many stories now in circulation: "The latest report is that on January 1 Charles Watts, of the Pennsylvania's Northwestern system, will retire from that position on account of poor health, and that A. B. Starr, assistant general superintendent of transportation of the Northwestern system, will succeed Mr. Watts as general superintendent. With the promotion of John F. Miller, general superintendent of the Pennsylvania lines west, George L. Peck, superintendent of the Pittsburg division of the Panhandle, will be made general superintendent of the Southwestern system."

CHANGES ON THE BIG FOUR.

F. J. Zerbee, master mechanic of the Michigan division of the Big Four, was yesterday promoted to a similar position on the Indianapolis division at Bellefontaine, Ohio. Cary Wert, master mechanic of the St. Louis division, with headquarters at Mattoon, Ill., succeeds Mr. Zerbee. Walter Thomas, general foreman of the shops in Wabash, becomes general foreman of the Louisville shop and round house, and W. P. Orland, general foreman of the Louisville shop, goes to Wabash to take a similar position. The changes are effective December 1.

THOMPSON'S MEXICO TOUR.

Col. R. G. Thompson, who arrived from Mexico last evening, is feeling jubilant over the prospects for the Thompson Wabash tour, which starts from this territory February 27. The personnel of the next party will probably include a number of Fort Wayne people. At least Mr. Thompson is led to that belief by several inquiries concerning the tour which have been made since his return. Concerning Mr. Thompson and the tour, the Daily Herald, of the City of Mexico, says: "R. G. Thompson, of Fort Wayne, Ind., advance agent of the Wabash railway tours to Mexico, left last evening over the Central for his home. He has been spending several days in the city looking over the ground and arranging for the reception of his party, which is due to arrive in the city on the 7th of March. The Wabash tours, under the management of Mr. Thompson, are becoming very popular and each year sees a larger number of tourists coming to Mexico by the Wabash. Mr. Thompson stated last evening that he intended to bring a party of about sixty people to the capital this spring."

TAFT'S LIGHT PLANT.

Electricians from the Fort Wayne Electric works are today engaged in installing an electric light plant in the dry goods store of James Taft, on Calhoun street. It will have a capacity of 450 lights and will in addition drive the cash carriers and furnish power for other purposes. In fact, this will be one of the most complete individual electric plants in the city. This improvement is evidence that the Taft store is enjoying a full measure of prosperity and that its popularity with the people is on the increase, as it is one of the most progressive establishments in the country.

BOILER FOR COLUMBIA CITY.

The Bass Foundry and Machine company yesterday contracted to build a boiler for Columbia City. That town is making some additions to its electric power plant and greater steam facilities are necessary. The new boiler will be of 125 horse power.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

R. S. May, a truckman at the Pittsburg freight house, is sick and off duty.

Charles Tilbury, a shophand at the factory of Rhinesmith & Simonson, is off duty on account of sickness.

Conductor C. A. Stemen and Brakeman F. L. Cushman, of the Pennsylvania yards, are off duty on account of sickness.

James Reed, of the Pittsburg freight house, resumed work this morning, having recovered from an illness which attacked him on the 10th inst.

Brakeman S. O. Worman has returned from Decatur, near which city he spent a week in hunting quail. He resumed work on the Pittsburg this morning.

The Southern Indiana has planned for making extensive improvements at Seymour, Ind., enlarging its yards, building a round house of eighteen stalls and a new depot.

Charlie Gaskins yesterday resumed railroading. Several weeks ago, when business on the Pittsburg fell off, he was temporarily suspended, with others. He is a brakeman.

Conductors G. M. Sauer and David Watterson, of the Nickel Plate, are off duty, the former being sick. Fireman Kartholl, of the same road, is looking after private business.

G. T. Aundley, a Pittsburg yard brakeman, is off duty on account of sickness. A. T. Guthrie, a yard brakeman, who had been sick, was able to report for work this morning.

It is understood that notwithstanding the fact that the Pennsylvania owns the controlling stock of the Chesapeake and Ohio, it is still increasing its holdings of the securities of that line.

TRIED HIS DODGE AT DAYTON

WILLIAM BREWER SERVING SENTENCE IN OHIO CITY.

Indicted in Fort Wayne, But Escaped on a Technicality—Minor Police Notes.

William Brewer, alias Roach, who was indicted for forgery in this city some months ago, but escaped on a technicality, attempted to work a similar dodge at Dayton, O., and is serving a term in the workhouse in that city, under the name of O'Neill.

Brewer, it will be remembered, selected attorneys as his victims, and endeavored to secure money by means of a cleverly concocted plan. He drifted into town and enlisted the services of an attorney to bring a damage suit against a railroad company on behalf of a friend who had been injured on the road. He exhibited maps and plans and the case as presented was a cinch against the company. After giving the case to the attorney he signed over what purported to be an order for $61.00 on the railroad company for salary due and requested an advance of $10 in cash on the amount. He was tripped up in Fort Wayne and was indicted under the name of William Brewer for forgery, papers in his possession leading to the supposition that this was his true name, though it was different from that signed to the order. When the case was called the indictment was quashed because the fellow was able to show that Brewer was not his true name.

Superintendent Gorsline in communicating with Dayton officials learned that under the name of O'Neill the fellow had attempted the same dodge there, but secured no money. He pleaded guilty to a charge of misdemeanor in attempting to get money by fraud, and is now doing a sentence of sixty days at Dayton.

SCENE OF NEW YORK'S BIG EXPLOSION.

New Yorkers have learned that it is dangerous to store explosive chemicals within the city limits. The recent catastrophe in that city resulted from the explosion of several tons of chlorate of potash, sulphur, barium and other substances used in the drug business. This view shows what happened to the elevated railroad structure when the big wholesale drug house went up with a bang, resulting in a sad loss of life and the destruction of a solid block of buildings.

THE NEW CLAUS SPRECKELS MUSIC PAVILION, GOLDEN GATE PARK, SAN FRANCISCO.

Here is a picture of the handsome music pavilion presented to San Francisco by Mr. Claus Spreckels, the sugar king, and recently dedicated in Golden Gate park. It was designed by Reid Bros., architects, San Francisco, and is said to be one of the finest specimens of recent architecture in this country. It is believed that this costly and beautiful pavilion is unequaled either in Europe or America. The entire structure is made of native California sandstone, which is hard and close grained in texture and a bluish gray in color. The carvings are not elaborate, but are highly artistic. The band stand proper is in an alcove under the main arch. The capitals of the colonnade columns are Ionic, with enriched cornice and an open balustrade on top.

ARE FEELING BLUE

BRITISH SENTIMENT ECHOES AMERICAN PESSIMISM.

WORRIED BY CHINESE ISSUE

FEAR UNITED STATES WILL QUIT THE CONCERT.

BRITAIN WOULD WITHDRAW

EMPIRE ANXIOUS TO GET OUT OF THE MUDDLE.

London, Nov. 24.—The pessimism reflected by the Washington special dealing with China finds a keen echo in Great Britain's cabinet. The gloomy foreboding that the United States will be compelled to withdraw from the concert of powers is only one of the causes of this feeling, for the British ministers are not inclined to believe the present lines of negotiation can result satisfactorily.

"The United States," said an official of the foreign office to a representative of the Associated Press, "cannot be any more anxious than England to get out of the China muddle. The cabinet ministers are reluctantly coming to believe that the endeavors to compel China to punish individual offenders are merely waste of time.

"Death by edict is a farce and a fairy tale. The powers' forces now in China are utterly inadequate to overrun the country and enforce their demands.

"England has no intention of augmenting her troops to such an extent as will be necessary if the Europeans themselves undertake to inflict punishment. It looks very much as if we shall all have to climb down. The only question is how can it be done with the best dignity and under circumstances giving the most satisfactory results.

"The policy of indefinite decimation, which the American journals seem to attribute to Germany, is not in the slightest shared by Great Britain."

This view is not that of a majority of the British press, who, without taking pains to find out the hunter opinion of the cabinet, generally condemn what they are pleased to call the "weak-kneed policy" of America.

The seizure of the British steamer Taboga by the Colombian government's officials at Panama is not regarded seriously here. The British gunboat Peasant will investigate the matter and in due course of time Colombia will probably be asked for an explanation. But the affair is not likely to produce any striking developments.

The request of the United States ambassador, Mr. Joseph H. Choate, for the suppression of the Filipino junta at Hong Kong has been put in the hands of the colonial office. It will probably take some weeks to ascertain the facts, with doubtful results. An official said:

"Honk Kong, of course, is part of a free country and we cannot take too arbitrary steps, even to please America. Most of the international plots are hatched right here in London, but we are quite powerless to suppress them."

The persistent reports that Sir Alfred Milner, the British high commissioner in South Africa, will be invalided home permanently are groundless. He will be afforded a holiday as soon as feasible. He is the last man the government contemplates withdrawing from South Africa and the state of his health by no means justifies the rumors.

London's new lord mayor, Mr. Frank Green, takes a very practical and friendly view of the American invasion of the city's finance, trade and transportation.

"It is merely a matter of utilitarianism," he said to a representative of the Associated Press. "American capital is bound to improve business here. I welcome warmly anything tending to bring the two nations the most good, even though it may appear to result only to the advantage of one of them. Together, England and America are more powerful in every way than the rest of the world.

"Regarding placing government loans in America, patriotism naturally compels me to say English financiers should have the first chance; but, if Americans give better terms, why let them have them by all means. All things being equal, I see no reason why Americans should not be allowed to subscribe to the loan which is likely to be asked for at the resumption of parliament and if, by open competition, she can secure the bulk, I am sure no hard feelings will exist in the city."

Hot on the heels of Charles T. Yerkes' underground railroad scheme come the announcements of so many projected roads that London may be said to have become the victim of the tube mania. If all the companies are allowed to operate half of London will be undermined. Parliamentary sanction will be applied for in the case of no less than ten electric tubes, necessitating the deposit of £3,000,000 as parliamentary guarantee. It is likely that several of these will never materialize.

USED FORGED CREDENTIALS.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 24.—The federal grand jury yesterday returned four indictments against Jesse Weik, of Greencastle, a politician and one of the authors of Herndon and Weiks "Life of Lincoln." In the first three counts Weik is charged with defrauding railroad companies by impersonating a United States officer, each count being for a separate offense. The fourth count is the most serious, however, and charges him with forging the name of Postmaster General Charles Emory Smith to credentials as a post office inspector, which he used in defrauding the railroad companies.

Weik was a post office inspector for several years, during Harrison's administration. His first credentials were issued Jan. 1, 1891, and were signed by John Wanamaker, postmaster general. These credentials are used by the inspectors in their trips about the country, and Weik, it is said, continued to use his after he had left the government service in 1894. Some time ago it was reported to the government officials that Weik was using such a pass, and Inspector Owen was put on the case. He discovered Weik in the act of offering the pass to a conductor on the Terre Haute and Indianapolis road. Weik, whose suspicions were aroused, in an attempt to escape jumped from the train while it was moving rapidly and was seriously injured.

BONES SAWED IN TWO.

T. P. Huppe, an employe of the Paul Pulley works, met with a most painful accident while operating a machine last evening. His left hand came in contact with a circular saw, and the two bones of the middle finger and ring finger between the wrist and knuckles of his left hand were sawed in half. Dr. Stults set the bones and sewed up the gash.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Wheat ruled fairly active and stronger early today on the unexpected scantiness at Liverpool and moderate northwest receipts. December opened ½c higher at 70⅝@70⅞c, touched 70⅜c and advanced to 71⅛c. Local receipts were 143 cars, none of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 497 cars, against 536 last week.

The market later touched 71¼c and closed firm, Dec. ⅜@½c up at 71½c.

In corn there was little business save in a scalping way. Prices were firm under influence of wet weather west. December opened a shade up at 35⅞c to 35⅞@36c, and sold to 36@36⅛c. Phillips did nothing and the November deal, therefore, offered nothing of exceptional interest. November opened unchanged at 44⅛c, touched 43⅜c and reacted to 45⅛c. Receipts were 416 cars, 48 of contract grade.

The close was firm, Dec. at 36⅜c and Nov. at 45c, 1c over yesterday.

Oats were dull. December opened unchanged at 21⅞c, touched 21¾@21⅞c and rallied to 21⅞@22c. Receipts were 142 cars.

Provisions opened easier but steadied on light hog receipts and higher prices at the yards. January pork opened 7½c lower at $11.92½, and sold to $12.20; January lard opened unchanged at $6.90 and advanced to $6.92½, and January ribs 2½c down at $6.82½, selling to $6.40.

THE CLOSE.

Prices at the close were as follows:

Wheat—Nov., 71⅛c; Dec., 71⅛c; Jan., 71⅛c.

Corn—Nov., 45c; Dec., 36⅛c; Jan., 35@35⅛c; May, 36⅜c.

Oats—Nov., 21⅞c; Dec., 21⅞c; May, 24@24½c.

Pork—Nov., $11.00; Dec., $11.00; Jan., $12.07½; May, $11.97½.

Lard—Nov., $7.15; Dec., $7.05; Jan., $6.90; May, $6.92½.

Ribs—Nov., $7.75; Jan., $6.35; May, $6.35@6.37½.

Flax—Cash N. W., $1.69; No. 1, $1.67; Nov., $1.68; Dec., $.165; May, $1.64.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Nov. 24.—There was some pressure to sell at the opening of the stock market, which was most marked among the industrials, especially Rubber, which fell 1¾, and the steel stocks. Steel and Wire lost ⅛. The railroad stocks were supported and some of them showed sharp gains, while others which opened lower rallied quickly. Northern Pacific was conspicuous with an opening rise of 1¼ on buying of large blocks, but the stock fell back.

Selling of Sugar and the steel stocks had some effect on the railroads, and a reaction occurred. In most of the principal specialties declines approximated a point, but only in Pennsylvania and Kansas City Southern preferred of the railroad division did the loss reach a full point.

The market rallied on an active covering movement before 11 o'clock. Recoveries reached 3 in Rubber preferred and 1½ in the common. The local tractions, the Pacifics, Grangers, New Jersey Central, Steel and Wire, Federal Steel, General Electric and People's Gas rose a point or better. Northern Pacific advanced altogether 2½. The general level of the market was above last night.

Union Pacific rose an extreme 1½, Southern Railway gained 1 and the preferred 1½. The bank statement was unexpectedly favorable, but prices declined on realizing. Rubber preferred reacted 1¾ from the top and Sugar as much. The bears sold the market when the lack of renewed demand was perceived. The closing was quite active and weak with prices of some stocks at the low point. Net changes were mixed.

I Have a Hot Time from Start to Finish.

I first saw the light of day under a burning Oriental sun and was tenderly cared for until I became fully developed. Then I was cooped up in a bag and put in the hot hold of a ship bound for Boston, where the epicures gave me a hot roast. Their toast was: "Here's to good old coffee, drink her down." I've met a warm reception everywhere and no more pleasing one than at H. G. Wiegmann's. Call and see me.

FOR A VIGILANCE COMMITTEE.

New York, Nov. 24.—Bishop Henry C. Potter yesterday delivered an address on "God and the City" before an audience of 2,500 persons in St. Paul's chapel, in which he suggested the organization of a vigilance committee of 25,000 reformers to cleanse the city of vice. He favored a central committee of three or five men, under whose orders the public committee should act. The bishop said:

"We shall not redeem New York, men and brethren, by emotions. We shall not redeem it by denunciation; we shall not redeem it by pessimistic temper that wraps its garment around it and turns its back upon it. There are burning with zeal and enthusiasm and a high purpose of sacrifice in this great city today great multitudes of men and women; they are of different religions, they must not forget that; they are of different nationalities, they must not forget that; they are of different political associations; most of all they must not forget that. Having reached that point, we should find three or five men whom all of us trusted and believed in, and say to them: 'Tell us what you want us to do, what relation you want our party, our church, our organization to bear to the betterment of New York.'"

CHANGES IN PUBLIC LIFE

SOME OF THE NOTABLE MUTATIONS THAT HAVE BEEN FORCED BY THE CURRENT OF ISSUES.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

It was an odd circumstance that in the canvass which has just ended tens of thousands of persons were ready to declare with positiveness just how Washington, Jefferson, Jackson and Lincoln would have voted on November 6, 1900, if they had been alive, while nobody except Mr. Cleveland and the few who were in his confidence could have told on which side the ex-president would cast his ballot. Everybody knew that he was opposed to Mr. Bryan on the money question and was against Mr. McKinley on the Philippine question. He was with the democrats on the latter question and with the republicans on the former, and thus perceived a divided duty which was more embarrassing than Desdemona's. The ex-president declared shortly before the election that it was a "most distressing campaign," but he gave no intimation as to the party for which he would cast his vote. Ex-Secretary Carlisle and ex-Speaker Reed let it be known that they were likely not to vote at all, while ex-President Harrison, though in sympathy with the republican party on nearly all the issues, declined to make any speeches in the canvass.

In one of its aspects this was an extraordinary condition. These men, all out of politics, were also out of the circle of political interest and activity. Mr. Cleveland for twelve years was by far the most potent personality in the democratic party. He had been its presidential nominee three times, and was elected twice. From 1884 until 1896 he was the dictator of the democracy to almost as great an extent as was Jackson from his election in 1828 to his retirement at the close of the canvass of 1836. What Jackson was for eight years Cleveland was for twelve years. Jackson's exploit in crushing the United States bank, which a majority of the northern end of his party, was equaled by Cleveland's achievement in defeating free silver legislation, and in forcing a rabid silverite democratic congress to aid in repealing the silver purchase section of the Sherman law. To a certain degree Jackson's extirpation of nullification in the democratic state of South Carolina did not require any more courage than did Cleveland's act in stamping out the Debs rebellion in Chicago in 1894 in the face of the protestations and impreca tions of Illinois' democratic governor. If it be said that Jackson's feat was the greater in the latter case, it can be shown that Cleveland's was the more difficult, and infinitely the more creditable, in the former. Yet Cleveland, so far as the public was able to discern, did not exercise the slightest influence in the campaign of 1900, and did not attempt to exercise any. An entirely new set of men from those who were in the ascendant in the democracy in Cleveland's days were at the front in 1900, and his days were only four years ago.

Ex-Secretary Carlisle was a large figure for a much longer time than ex-President Cleveland, though, of course, at no time such a potent personage. Though a Union man during the war he remained a democrat, and entered public life soon after the war closed, first in the state offices and afterward on the national stage. In the twenty years in which he was in national positions, beginning with his entrance into the house of representatives in 1877 and ending with his retirement from Mr. Cleveland's cabinet at the close of Cleveland's second term in 1897, Carlisle was a big figure in his party. Since the death of Beck, whom he succeeded in the senate, Carlisle was the most powerful personality in Kentucky. The drift in his party away from Cleveland, however, in the last year of Cleveland's second term, turned many of Carlisle's old friends against him, and he left Kentucky and located in New York. In the past three or four years he has virtually been a man without a party. Although in sympathy with the republican side in the canvass of 1898, as in that of 1900, he took no active part in politics. The field of political effort in which he was a distinguished figure for over a quarter of a century suddenly seemed to have lost all its charms for him, and the active work of political direction in his party was done by men who, in general, were far below him in ability, as well as in experience. Thus, in the campaign which has just ended, he was a political cipher.

Ex-President Harrison's isolation in the recent campaign was not quite so marked as was that of Messrs. Cleveland and Carlisle. Unlike them, he was in harmony with his party on most of the issues of national concern. Moreover, for his refusal to make speeches or take any active part in politics he could plead the demands of advancing age. General Harrison is 67 years old, and he engaged in the heavy work of campaigning for a third of a century. Advancing age was, virtually, the reason which he assigned for not appearing at any of the gatherings of the republican party. Only eight years ago General Harrison, the titular chief of his party, was also an active political worker, but the intervening time, short as it is, has put new men at the front, and many of the older magnates of half a dozen or half a score years ago are as obsolete as if they belonged to a different generation.

Ex-President Grant presided at meetings and made speeches in the Garfield campaign. Ex-President Jackson, who left the white house in 1837, was considered by his enemies in his own and the opposition party to have dominated Van Buren's administration of 1837-41, and he certainly exerted all his influence in 1844, although vainly in this particular case, to get the nomination for Van Buren in that year, despite Van Buren's heterodoxy on the vital issue of that day, Texas annexation. Both Madison and Monroe consulted ex-President Jefferson on all the important measures of their administrations. It was nearly half a generation after Jefferson left the white house that, on Monroe's request, he outlined a program on the holy alliance question which the president of that day followed in its general features, and which has been known ever since as the Monroe doctrine. In the case of Cleveland and Harrison, however—though not to the same extent with the latter as with the former, for Harrison made a few speeches in 1896—retirement from political office has meant the extinction of party interest and activity.

But the most striking instance of self-effacement which has occurred within the memory of the present generation is that which has taken place in ex-Speaker Reed's case. Along until the meeting of the republican national convention in St. Louis in 1896 Mr. Reed was the most powerful personage in public life. The contest for the presidency in that year was between him and Mr. McKinley, and though the latter won, the speaker retained his old interest in the party and took the stump for the ticket. He retained his old power during part of the first half of the present administration, though he was opposed to the administration on an important part of its policy, that relating to the war with Spain and the accessions of territory which that conflict brought. This diminished his prestige to some degree, though until he left congress less than two years ago he was still the most potent personality in the party and the country, next to President McKinley himself. His retirement from public life, however, seems to have ended not only all his presidential aspirations (he will be 65 years of age when the next national convention meets), but to have extinguished all his partisan connections and interests. One of Clay's earlier biographers said that Clay, as speaker, wielded more power than the president. Thomas B. Reed, however, made the speakership a much more powerful and important post than it was under any person who held that office during Clay's half century of public life.

Among the prominent persons who retired from congress around the time at which Reed left public life were Senators Mills, of Texas; Gorman, of Maryland; Smith, of New Jersey; Murphy, of New York, and Gray, of Delaware, and Representatives Walker, of Massachusetts, and Johnson, of Indiana. All of these have been defeated except Gorman, though Gray has become a circuit judge of the United States court, and, of course, is thus out of active politics. Gorman is still an influential personage in his party, and may go back to public life; but all the others are probably off the stage for good. Ex-Senator Hill, who stepped out a little earlier than the men last mentioned, is still a personage of considerable consequence in his party, and possibly has a future, but in the present strife in all parties for nomination for office and in the frequent shifting of party ground on one issue or another, when a person leaves office he sometimes finds himself soon outside of the sphere of his party's interests and activities.

However, the instances in which careers have been abruptly ended are not restricted to the present day. About half a century ago David Wilmot's name was known to more persons in the United States than was that of the president of the time. As the author of the celebrated proviso which proposed to shut slavery out of the territory to be acquired from Mexico he reflected an issue which dwarfed all other questions then before the country, and which remained at the front until the war, whose coming it hastened. The Wilmot proposition encountered violent opposition from one section of the country and was almost as ardently favored in the other. As extended to the exclusion of slavery from all the territories, from whatever source they were acquired, the principle became the cardinal tenet in the creed of the free soil party founded in 1848 and the republican party, created in 1854. Wilmot firmly fixed his name in United States history, but his public life was comparatively short. He was six years (1843-51) in the house of representatives from Pennsylvania, in which body he introduced his celebrated proviso, which was an amendment to a bill making an appropriation whereby President Polk could buy territory from Mexico, the war between the United States and that country being then (1846) under way. He was in the senate two years, beginning in 1851, and this comprized his whole service in political office on the national stage. Lincoln appointed him a judge of the court of claims in 1862, and he dropped out of view at once, though he lived until 1868.

Another man whose name filled as large a place in the history of his day as Wilmot's did in his own was James Tallmadge, of New York, who, like Wilmot, was a democrat. Tallmadge was the author of the slavery prohibition amendment to the Missouri admission bill, the amendment being proposed on February 13, 1819. This slavery restriction caused a division nearly on geographical lines, most of the northern members of congress voting to shut slavery out of Missouri, and nearly all the southern men voting to keep slavery in it.

The contest on the Missouri admission question lasted two years, and it incited two adjustments, that which was the Missouri compromise proper being the one which let Missouri into the Union with slavery, which had been in existence in the territory from its early days of settlement, but shut slavery out of all the rest of the territory purchased from France in 1803 north of Missouri's southerly boundary line. Tallmadge was in private life, however, before the fight on his slavery restriction was ended. In fact, his entire service in congress or in national office was confined to two years in the house of representatives, and his term ended about three weeks after he offered his amendment. The work, which he did then, though, lived after him, and occupied more of the time of the next congress right to the end of its term than any other half a dozen questions which were before that body. Tallmadge died a few months before the passage of the Kansas-Nebraska bill.

Still another man whose fame was large, though the duration of his service was small, was Fisher Ames, of Massachusetts. Ames was a member of the ultra sect of the federalists nicknamed the Essex Junto, from Essex county, Mass., in which most of its leading spirits resided. He made one speech which, by extracts, had a place in most of the school reading books and works on rhetoric which were used in the northern states along to the war of secession. The speech was in favor of the appropriation of money to carry the Jay treaty into effect, and was made in the house of representatives in 1796. The current seemed to be strongly against the treaty in that chamber until Ames spoke, and then the tide turned, and the treaty was accepted and put in operation. Ames got up out of a sick bed to make the speech, and he and everybody else at the time supposed he was at the point of death. The circumstance that his plea for the acceptance of the treaty was that of a man who was standing at the edge of the tomb, and that he was supposed to speak as a seer when he depicted the appalling consequences which would come to the country if the treaty was rejected, gave his words an impressiveness which the more susceptible among its opponents could not withstand. Ames' speech was the most eloquent and effective ever delivered in congress except Webster's "reply to Hayne," a third of a century afterward. He remained in congress only a year later, his entire service in national office being eight years, but this address made for him a reputation which has given him a place among the great historical figures of the early days of the government.

A far bigger man than Ames, Tallmadge or Wilmot also had a very brief service in national office, and after his retirement he had comparatively little influence with the administration which was controlled by his party. This was Alexander Hamilton. The whole extent of his service in national office under the constitution was the six years in which he was at the head of the treasury in Washington's cabinet, though he served in the Continental congress before the constitution was framed. Hamilton was the greatest of all the men who have ever held the treasury portfolio under the United States government, the man who make the nearest approach to him in the value of their service to the country as finance ministers being Salmon P. Chase, who was at the head of the treasury during the greater part of the war of secession, and John Sherman, who, while in the senate, was the author of the resumption act, and who then, as secretary of the treasury, under Hayes, put that law into operation. Sherman's connection with the resumption law, which brought the country's currency up to the gold level, and which has kept it up to that line ever since, was the crowning episode in his long and useful career. Hamilton, though in intellectual power the biggest man of the revolutionary era, was never popular with the people, and probably could not have been chosen to any important elective office in New York, even during the days of federalist supremacy. Hamilton's divergence from President Adams on some questions of policy put him as completely out of harmony with hi party's administration as Thomas B. Reed is at the present time, or as Grover Cleveland is with the men who dominate his organization today, but he had much influence with some prominent members of his party in congress and he exerted this influence worthily on several important occasions.

CHINESE EXAMINATIONS.

The University of London, a few years ago, admitted to its initial examinations about 1,400 students and passed one-half. There are four different examinations in the Chinese university. The first is for the degree of "Budding Genius," corresponding to our A. B., says a writer in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly. This examination is held in every prefecture. The second is for the degree of "Promoted Scholar," or M. A., and is held in each provincial capital. Li Hung Chang has never advanced beyond this degree. The third is for "Fit for Office," a sort of D. C. L. or LL. D. The fourth is for admission to the Hanlin academy, or "Forest of Pencils," which makes the successful scholar one of the great men of the empire. Each degree is open only to the men who have won the lower degrees. The lowest is open to anyone. "A man of talent," as Dr. Martin says, "may raise himself from the humblest ranks to the dignity of viceroy or premier." No land can be more democratic than China.

In each provincial capital is an examination hall. It consists of long rows of cells open at the end, and just large enough to hold a scholar with his bedding, teapot and food. There are 12,000 cells in the Canton hall. A great wall surrounds the grounds, and at the end is the hall where the officials sit. The candidates are all admitted at the same time, assigned to their cells, and the gates are sealed. If a student dies, as often happens, his body is put through a small hole in the wall. Each examination lasts twenty-four hours. Then the students are released for two days, only to return for two more sieges. A paper with blots or defacements is thrown out. Such innocent questions as this are proposed to them: "The art of war arose under Hwang-Ti, forty-four hundred years ago. Different dynasties have since that time adopted different regulations in regard to the use of militia or standing armies, the mode of raising supplies for the army, etc. Can you state these briefly?" The men who pass these examinations are a lot of pendants, akin as the desert and primeval as the patriarchs.

LONG DISTANCE DIPLOMACY.

In this year of "Conger dispatches," trans-Pacific cable projects and long distance diplomacy, an incident connected with the early days of the electric telegraph may have repetition. Mr. Louis Adolphe Thiers, afterwards president of the French republic, was even then a veteran in the public service of his nation, and had little to learn of the ways of the world. To him came a young attache, full of enthusiasm over the new era which telegraphy should usher in. There were to be no more international misunderstandings. The long delays of the past were annihilated, and the truth of any diplomatic situation could be known almost instantaneously in all capitals of Europe.

To his glowing vision the chief obstacle to millennial peace had been swept away by this wonderful invention. Thiers heard him to the end of his rhapsody, but chilled him with a word. "Millennium, nonsense! The devil will control the telegraph within a decade!" As we recall the history of a half century of telegraphy, and consider how the Morse alphabet has been used to spell out lies, to throw the bourses into a panic, to mislead and confuse public opinion and to influence government policies for evil, the significance of the astute minister's saying is readily apparent. Indeed, the part played by the telegraph in the lightning diplomatic strategy which precipitated the Franco-Prussian war of 1870 is ample warrant for the ill-boding remark. Chautauquan.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

PAUL ON THE DUTY OF SERVANTS AND IN GENERAL OF ALL CHRISTIANS.

(John Lindsay Withrow, D. D., of Park Street Church, Boston, in the Chicago Record.)

Lesson for Sunday, November 25, 1900.

Topic—"Sober Living."

Text—Titus, ii., 1-15.

PAUL'S CONFIDENCE IN TITUS.

We have here an epistle of Paul which is peculiar in being directed, as it is addressed, to one person Titus, and "not for the church, or for the church along with him." "Everywhere it is Titus, and Titus alone who is addressed." He was "the well known assistant of Paul. He was (Galatians ii., 3) "a gentile by birth." That he was one of Paul's favorite subordinates is shown by the confidence Paul placed in Titus. Paul sent him from Ephesus to Corinth on a special mission. When Paul visited the island of Crete at a later date Titus was his traveling companion, and was counted so trustworthy as to be left there to evangelize the island.

Whatever advantage Christianity has gained from instruction of young men for the ministry there have been advantages obtained by students who took all their training from experienced fathers in the ministry. When President Garfield said that with one young man sitting on the end of a log and President Mark Hopkins, of Williams college, sitting on the other, there would be an equipped college, he expressed great truth. Titus would never have secured in school classes what he got from intimacy with Paul and imitation of that illustrious apostle of Christ. Half the promise and profit of an education depends upon the instructor's personality and power to impart his life to the pupil. We look back to our studentship and recall teachers who had as well been wood or metal machines for any vital force they imparted. But others, we recall, whose presence stimulated us; whose words warmed us and made us want to hear more and more. The ancient Greeks paid compliments to different orators, but of Philip they said, to hear him stirred them to cry "To arms!"

THE MAN FOR THE WORK.

Paul doubtless discovered this young Christian convert from the gentiles to be a man of parts, and so he laid upon him weighty and still weightier responsibility. Thus in this epistle Paul (i., 5) placed him in charge of the incipient Christian cause in Crete. Crete is a long (160 miles) and narrow (from twelve to thirty miles wide) island, one of the largest in the Mediterranean, and forming the most southerly part of Europe. The ancient history of the island is of war, wickedness and all the excessive cruelties that these bring on mankind. The Cretans themselves claimed their island to be the birthplace of Zeus, the god of gods, as well as "the Olympian deities." The moral degradation of the natives in Paul's time must have been desperate, judging only what he here writes to Titus. Just how the gospel first found voice in that babel of abominations has not been ascertained. Credible authority supports the opinion that Paul was not the earliest pioneer preacher there. But whether he was or not there had not been more than a start made when he committed the work to his young assistant. Titus (i., 5) was charged with original organization and to "ordain elders in every city." Great's the privilege of laying foundations to be thought worthy to lend a hand in enough of an honor in any case, but to lend in starting Christianity in a country or locality, or in the circle of a family, how much more to be desired than to start out in life simply to accumulate a pile of money. The work which was assigned to Titus we should say would require a Titan to lift it and more Titans to carry it forward. Profane history pictures the perfidy, profligacy and moral pollution of the Cretans in most repulsive colors. Paul selects some of their prominent characteristics and customs, enough to display their national and racial conditions.

One eminent characteristic of holy scriptures should not be overlooked, indeed it should always be emphasized by a teacher; that is, the Bible truths belong to all times and all sorts and conditions of men. They are addressed to those who lived when and where the writers lived. Also, they are written so as to fit places and peoples of all periods. The Bible is therefore the one book which never wears out, never is outgrown. Books on natural science, art, medicine, law, become discredited authorities in the course of time. But the holy scriptures appertain to all time, not in exactly the same senses, but in vital significance. In the present lesson the teaching does not fit the church of today precisely as it fitted the initial conditions of Christianity in Crete. Still it fits. Paul gives Titus instruction as to two matters of capital importance in the interest of a true Christianity. If Christianity was to take root in Crete and grow to the glory of Christ, Titus was told to insist upon teachers of moral character and professing Christians who would live moral lives. Judging from chapter i., 6-12, what Christianity there was when Paul visited the island was of a very adulterated kind. We should probably not find a community in our Christian republic where the preachers and teachers of our holy religion are as degenerate as those there appear to have been.

POOR CLASS OF TEACHERS.

Professing they knew God, "in works they denied Him, being abominable and disobedient and to every good work reprobate." A frightful indictment, indeed, to draw against men who stood before their fellows as teachers of Christianity. Notice that Paul does not predicate these scandalous improprieties and perfidious practices of the Cretans in general, but of those who had become in a measure identified with the new religion of the cross. For the nation generally he had one sweeping and notorious accusation to make (i., 12), which he did, by quoting from Epimenides, a poet of that people who flourished four or five centuries B. C. This poet, and according to historians, some other critics of ante-Christian times, said: "The Cretans are always liars, evil beasts, idle (or lazy) gluttons." Paul simply sanctioned the poet's words as to the nation, saying: "This witness is true." Being thus grossly bad, they needed Christian teachers of exactly the opposite qualities of character. And herein we see where the truth may still apply in our time. Thus: The worse the world is the more imperative is the need for teachers and preachers who, as Enoch of old, walk with God. Just this is a need now. If Christianity is declining as a moral force—and it is said to be—there is no need greater than a toned-up ministry and teaching force of men and women who will not compromise with evil things. At the close of the eighteenth century there was abroad in both Europe and America an audacious infidelity which seemed almost autocratic. The moral character of the ministers of the churches averaged low. And it was the rise of Methodism with a deep and powerful quickening of all the churches which then rescued the cause of Christ from threatened collapse. To that we must look now. This letter Paul sent Titus might well be read in all the pulpits until every one in holy orders should cry out, as the disciples did when Jesus announced a betrayer: "Lord, is it I?"

A WORD TO CHURCH MEMBERS.

But besides the requirement of morality in Christian ministers, Paul (particularly in our lesson piece) deals with the need of morality in church members.

He told Titus of the true religious teachers that were needed. Now, he says, let me speak of the people. Lesson v. 1: "Speak thou the things that become sound doctrine." Tell the Christian professors there in Crete what their conduct should be before the world. The topic of the lesson is "Sober Living," and many will use the lesson for the explicit purpose of advocating temperance and abstinence from strong drink. This is a lawful use of the scripture, but it is not at all a comprehensive use. Comprehensively the address is to the sexes. Those of different ages and those of different rank. For all it is a gospel on the subject of correct morality of life. It is sometimes said by those calling themselves liberalists that conservatives make subscription to a creed the only essential thing. There may be here and there an individual who thus mislays the emphasis of scriptural faith and practice. But no body of Christians has ever done so. Much as we believe that we are "saved by grace through faith," yet do we as much believe that a genuine Christian is "created in Christ Jesus unto good works." It is pestilential to teach that it does not matter what a person does so long as he subscribes to the sound creed which is called orthodox. That doctrine would corrupt any one. Instead let our lesson state the truth. To both sexes, to old and young and to masters and servants this gravely earnest message comes, commanding holiness of conduct, if any one would class himself as one of Christ's disciples. Thus (lesson v, 2) "teach the aged men to be sober, grave, temperate, sound in faith, in charity, in patience." Old men should be better than young men. They have had more time to learn the value of virtue, integrity and uprightness.

AGED WOMEN EXHORTED.

Then (v. 3) the aged women likewise exhort to conduct becoming holiness, that they control their tongues and be not false accusers, and their state, that they touch not the five kindling wine cup. What sight under the sun is more deplorable than a bad old woman? Young or old, there is something almost more saddening to see a woman than to see a man in the grip of the evil spirit. But of old women we have no other idea than that they should be the gentlest and the best of human beings. And are they not as a class, just that? They are the saintliest of all we see in our churches. They are the tenderest and truest wherever the grace of Christ has been vigorously exercised in any church.

But Paul adds a passage for (v. 4) the training of young women, to love their husbands, their children, and be sober-minded, chaste, workers at home, being in subjection to their own husbands. Here we have another incidental proof that the scripture precepts are not for every place and person alike. It is not all young women who need to be instructed to fidelity as here specified. Some need it. Then for them it is meant. And as for being "in subjection to their own husbands," I believe the emphasis is to be laid more upon "their own" than upon "husbands." For when Paul expressed himself concerning the subordination of wives to husbands and women to men, I never did and never shall believe he meant to apply the principle to any except certain of those orientalists. Making women underlings is a disgusting and, thank God, a departing practice of barbarism.

From what has been written the principles of the remaining instruction to young men and to servants (verses 6 and 9) is easily seen. It is all a call for high morality as the sure evidence of a real Christianity. Paul's type is high, higher and highest in "all holy conversation and godliness." Just see how he would have (lesson verse 12) us live. The very fiber of a true Christian faith, the red corpuscles in the blood of a new born being; the very best of a heart that has been changed by the holy spirit, is to the end of holiness of conduct, purity of life. Then read the last three verses of the lesson and see how this uplifted new life mounts to mansions of glory and we will have our lesson full force.

FREAK MAN WAS KIDNAPED.

A queer case of kidnaping occurred in Belfast the other evening in which Don Rabbins was the victim. Don is well known as being one of the smallest men in the world. He is 38 years of age, about three feet in height and weighs about forty pounds. He is unusually bright and quick-witted and has had many offers to travel with circuses and to appear in museums. His parents, although poor fishermen, who live in East Belfast, would never permit him to leave home. During the last two or three months Don has been employed at the Windsor hotel, doing errands, blacking shoes and performing other light work. He is very popular and interesting with the guests. He not only supported himself, but gave considerable money to his folks. Recently Don has been saving his money to purchase a new suit of clothes. His folks wanted the money. Don refused. So Friday evening members of the Robbins family hung around the Windsor hotel until a favorable opportunity, when they grabbed Don and carried him home, struggling and howling. Such a public and forcible case of kidnaping of a man 38 years of age is unique, to say the least.—Lewiston, Me., Journal.

RECORD EARTHQUAKES.

Prof. John Milne, so long associated with earthquake recording work, has been emitting another growl at the want of appreciation by the government of the great need of establishing a central recording station in England, says an English newspaper. At present Mr. Milne's operations are conducted in a barn near Newport, Isle of Wight, which is far from suitable for the delicate instruments required in measuring earthquake shocks and movements. The government is ready enough to grant the use of empty houses, but what Professor Milne requires is a properly constructed building founded upon rock which, after being established could be kept going for £300 a year. He estimates that nearly 20,000 earthquakes occur every year, and that of these 150 may be termed big earthquakes, which go round the world and yet are unperceived in this country.

THRIVE IN AMERICA.

The largest element among Levantines in this country is Syrian; then come the Turks, the heterodox Armenians, Arabs and Semitic Africans. They all look more or less alike, having oval faces; long, thin noses, narrow lips, white teeth, blue-black hair and a skin almost as dark as a mulatto. Unlike most other foreigners, they are not especially religious. Some deny any faith whatever, others claim to be nominal Romanists, Greek Catholics, Armenian Catholics, Copts and Mohammedans. They are energetic and are quite skillful in their callings. They make tasteful jewelry, rugs, embroideries, metal work and bric-a-brac.—New York Post.
